Price Ceiling Set On Natural Gas

Gas Decision Is Hailed As Landmark

State PUC Aide Says Refunds Due California Firms

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The Federal Power Commission natural gas ruling today was hailed in California as "a landmark decision that at last brings stability in natural gas" prices.

The comment came from California Public Utilities Commission—Commissioner William M. Bennett of Kentfield.

California companies would receive approximately 85 per cent of an estimated $30 million in refunds, he said.

REBATED MONEY

In all rulings involving gas rate reductions on interstate gas, the California commission has ordered California distributors to refund the millions of dollars of rebated money to the consumers.

Bennett predicted today's ruling would be appealed and would eventually go to the Supreme Court of the United States for final determination.

He expressed belief the ruling would give the PUC "courage to place California gas wells under regulation."

CALIFORNIA WELLS

He pointed out that they are not affected by today's Permian Basin ruling, because they produce only for California.

At present the California wells get an approximately 20 cent free ride. They sell their gas at wellhead to California distributors for 34 cents per 1,000 cubic feet.

FPC's two-priced Permian ruling set a 14.5 cent rate for comparable gas from the Permian Basin in Texas.

California wells sell to the Pacific Gas & Electric Co. under a so-called "border rate." This is the price that PG&E pays for imported gas at the state border, and includes the cost of pipeline transportation from the producing state.

"This is a landmark decision because it is the first time the FPC has asserted the right to regulate natural gas producers at the field," Bennett said. "I consider this a great accomplishment on the part of Chairman Joseph Swidler and the FPC.

"We have at last got stability in natural gas. The commission is determining, as all regulatory bodies should, that cost should be the sole determining factor on price."

Uniform Rate Due 20 Areas

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Federal Power Commission (FPC), in a milestone decision, today opened the way for millions of dollars in refunds and lower rates for natural gas consumers.

The decision spelled out a simplified two-price system of setting uniform rates for gas producers in more than 20 regions.

LONG INVOLVED

The decision in the long and involved Permian Basin case represented a historic departure in federal regulation. The case was fought by producers every step of the way in the five years it took the commission to decide it.

It was viewed as almost a dead certainty that the decision will be appealed to the Supreme Court.

It was also certain to have strong impact on the stock market and widespread reverberations in the oil and gas industry.

UNIFORM PRICING

The decision itself applied only to the Permian Basin producing area of west Texas and eastern New Mexico. But it was considered a precedent for uniform area pricing in other regions.

The FPC said new lower rates should go into effect Sept. 1 and could not be raised for at least 2½ years.

The highest rate allowable under the decision will be 16.5 cents per 1,000 cubic feet of gas (MCF). This rate will apply to newly discovered gas.

For all other types—gas from oil wells and by-products from gasoline refining—the rate will be 14.5 cents. New Mexico rates may be fractionally lower because of lower state production taxes.

Major producers in the Permian Basin sought a price no less than 20 cents per MCF. That is the price many of them are now receiving for their gas under interim authority.

The difference between the present prices and the new lower prices would constitute the refund. This is estimated at be-

Painting Strike End Is Seen Soon

A break in the long, bitter Bay Area painting strike may have been reached last night when negotiators of District Council Eight of the Painters' Union arrived at a tentative agreement with the San Francisco Painting and Decorating Contractors Assn.

Dow Wilson, negotiator for the council, told the Independent-Journal today he will try to present the contract proposal to a meeting tonight of Marin Local 83 at 8 p.m. in Painters Hall, 1701 Mission Avenue, San Rafael.

He said telegrams have been sent to the Marin PDCA and the Sonoma PDCA (which deals with Santa Rosa Local 364) requesting that direct negotiations begin immediately with the district council. The district council is composed of Wilson's giant Local Four in San Francisco and the Marin and Santa Rosa locals.

The agreement was reached, Wilson related, after the San Francisco management group withdrew yesterday from the Bay Area management negotiations in order to deal directly with the council.

The main features of the agreement are a $1.50 per hour increase over the next three years in basic wages and fringe benefits and a much more lucrative pension plan. The pension, drawn from the fringe benefits, will be $200 per month; at present it is $70.

The contract also includes provisions for:

1. A dental plan for the worker and his family; at present only the worker is covered.
2. An increase in premium pay for elevated work, termed "high-time" and "still construction."
3. An increase in foreman's pay.
4. Subsistence pay of $14 per day for out-of-town work to pay for lodging.
5. A morning coffee break of 10 minutes.
6. An increase of travel expenses from 8 cents per mile to 12 cents with an extra 10 cents per mile added for mileage over 20 miles.
7. Prohibition of paint rollers on elevated work.
8. Compulsory posting of $5,000 bond by new contractors and those who refuse to pay agreed fringe benefits.
9. Protection for stewards, who are to be the last workers laid off if they are qualified for the work.

Ford Seeking LBJ Meeting On Viet Views

WASHINGTON (AP)—House Republican Gerald R. Ford of Michigan asked President Johnson today for a personal conference to "determine on what basis you were erroneously informed as to my views."

Ford told a news conference he had his communication delivered to the White House by hand.

Referring Johnson's denunciation of an unnamed Republican leader for what the President said was a violation of confidence, Ford's letter said:

"In the light of the events of the past week, if you were referring to me, I must respectfully request a conference with you to determine on what basis you were erroneously informed as to my views."

Johnson declared last Sunday that a prominent Republican, consulted on Viet Nam moves, had violated the President's confidence and put out information that was "untrue and perhaps malicious."

While Johnson did not name the Republican, a number of newspapers reported that the blast was aimed at Ford.

It was touched off when the President was asked about published reports that a memo from Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana had persuaded him against calling reservists to active duty in Viet Nam.

Vote Rights Bill Signing Is Tomorrow

White House press secretary Bill D. Moyers announced today that Johnson will sign the bill at noon, with his Cabinet on hand.

The signing will come on the 104th anniversary of a ceremony in which President Abraham Lincoln signed at the Capitol a bill giving freedom to slaves employed by Confederates in carrying out the Civil War.

Moyers said tomorrow's ceremony will be open to live coverage by radio and television.

Johnson said the bill "brings within our immediate vision the day when every American can enter a polling booth without fear or hindrance."

Viet Cong Destroys Jet Fuel; Air War On Reds Continues

SAIGON (UPI) — The Communist guerrilla attack on an American jet fuel storage depot six miles from Da Nang today destroyed nearly two million gallons of gasoline used in attacks against North Viet Nam and the Viet Cong, it was reported in Saigon.

A spokesman said loss of the fuel would not affect American bombing raids. The military command said in a formal statement today the raids were achieving their purpose of slowing Communist infiltration and putting pressure against Hanoi.

The two tanks which went up in flames and two damaged were among eight in operation at the Esso depot. The spokesman said there was no accurate information on the amount of fuel lost but best estimates put the loss at just under two million gallons. Two other tanks were not being used.

U. S. Marines on a sweep operation six miles southeast of the Da Nang air base today killed three Viet Cong and captured one wounded guerrilla and four suspected Viet Cong for interrogation. A Marine spokesman said the Viet Cong opened fire and the Marines drove them off.

In the air war U.S. Navy and Air Force planes bombed targets in North Viet Nam last night and today. A spokesman said one attack by four U.S. Air Force F105 Thunderchiefs wiped out the Leng Minh military area 95 miles northwest of Hanoi. Other planes heavily bombed the Vinh army barracks and railroad and highway bridges.

Raids reported in South Viet Nam today killed an estimated 127 Viet Cong guerrillas. A military spokesman said U.S. Navy, Air Force and Vietnamese air force pilots flew more than 280 sorties against Viet Cong staging areas and supply depots in the 24-hour period ending at 6 a.m.

The Communist attack on the petroleum depot at Lien Chiu around the bay from Da Nang was believed carried out by two Viet Cong companies who overran an outpost manned by regional forces and penetrated the storage area.

Charges set by the attackers destroyed two storage tanks and damaged two others.

The spokesman said the Viet Cong also lobbed mortar shells from surrounding hills and attacked with 57mm recoilless rifles and small arms.

In a related action, the Viet Cong also attacked other regional forces defending a bridge just south of the main attack. Light casualties were reported in both battles.

The Viet Cong said two weeks ago they would attack the depot and American and Vietnamese defenses had been strengthened since that time.

U.S. Marine artillery and the guns of the destroyer Stoddard, standing off shore, joined Vietnamese government ground and air forces to beat back the attack. A tanker berthed at the depot escaped.

Several rounds from the Stoddard fell short among Vietnamese forces moving up to defend the depot, killing and wounding a number of troops.

In Saigon, U.S. military intelligence sources told United Press International that Com-

Russ Press Hints New Space Flight

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Soviet press began hinting today that Russia is preparing for another manned space flight.

The newspaper Rabochaya Gazeta, published in provincial Kiev, said women workers at a chocolate factory in Lvov have asked spaceman Vladimir Komarov to give an unidentified "cosmonaut No. 12" a box of candy to carry with him into space.

The girls were quoted as saying that they are "preparing themselves for the triumphal day when the whole world will learn of the new manned cosmic (space) flight."

Editor Charges Fortas Link To Red Attorneys Group

WASHINGTON (AP)—Charges of Communist ties were leveled at Abe Fortas today at a Senate Judiciary Committee hearing on his nomination to be an associate justice of the Supreme Court.

But Fortas, long-time lawyer friend of President Johnson, was strongly endorsed by Sens. Albert Gore and Ross Bass from his home state of Tennessee and by Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., a former Yale law school classmate.

Sworn as a witness by chairman James O. Eastland, D-Miss., Fortas testified that to the best of his knowledge and belief he never attended a meeting or had any connection whatever with the International Juridical Association.

Marjorie Shearon of Chevy Chase, Md., editor of Challenge to Socialism, a weekly paper she publishes, had described the association as "an international organization of lawyers set up by Moscow to help Communists when they got in trouble." She said Fortas was a member of its national committee during his days as a government lawyer.

She said this and other testimony she gave must indicate to the committee "that Mr. Fortas has been significantly connected with Communists and Communist fronts over a considerable period of time."

Fortas was nominated by Johnson July 28 to fill the vacancy on the court created by the appointment of Justice Arthur J. Goldberg to be U.S. ambassador to the United Nations.

Questioned by Eastland about the International Juridical Association, Fortas said this was "an old charge" that came up when he was confirmed as under secretary of the interior in 1942.

He said that in the 1930s someone may have written to him and asked him to join and he may have said yes. But he added that was "the totality of my connection, if any."

"You were not active in it at all?" Eastland asked.

"No, sir," Fortas replied.

Burned Villages Action Defended

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — A U.S. military spokesman said today "the Marines do not burn down houses and villages unless they are fortified."

He cited the case of Cam Ne, south of the Da Nang air base, and described it as a Viet Cong stronghold.

American Leathernecks overran the village Tuesday.

The spokesman said they burned 50 of the village's 90 houses.

Speaking of an instance in which Marines set one house afire with a cigarette lighter, he said "it was a tactical installation with a concrete basement leading to tunnels rather than a peaceful dwelling."

Gasoline Price War Spreading

A gasoline price war started in San Rafael two weeks ago appeared to be spreading across central Marin today as stations dropped prices by five cents.

Sarganis Brothers Shell Service at Lincoln Avenue and Second Street reported that it had been selling Ethyl gas for 31.9 cents per gallon and regular gas for 28.9 cents per gallon since July 22.

Some station owners said the war had not progressed beyond San Anselmo's Miracle Mile until this week. The lower prices were posted today by at least one Fairfax station, Fairfax Shell Service at 1942 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

U.S. Employment Hits New High

WASHINGTON (AP)—The nation's total employment hit an all-time high of nearly 75 million in July and the unemployment rate dropped to an eight-year low of 4.5 per cent, the Labor Department said today.

Total employment at 74.9 million was up 1.1 million from June, the Bureau of Labor Statistics said, and the jobless total dropped 700,000 to 3.6 million.

There was improvement among virtually all categories of unemployment, particularly among teen-agers who have given the Labor Department the greatest cause for worry for some time.

Greek Premier Steps Down

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — Premier George Athanasiadis Novas resigned today after his defeat in a stormy parliamentary vote of confidence. In an unexpected move, King Constantine asked him to remain in office pending a solution of Greece's political crisis.

Novas

Most observers had thought the king would accept the resignation immediately and name a new premier. His request to Athanasiadis Novas to remain in office temporarily indicated the king was undecided on his next step.

Before his overthrow in Parliament early today, Athanasiadis Novas suggested that Constantine call the leaders of all political parties together to discuss the crisis.

The outgoing premier said today the king had decided not to call a council of the party leaders but to consult with them individually.

The couple dined last night at a restaurant on a moonlit harbor of Martha's Vineyard Island, and were joined by actresses Claudette Colbert, Merle Oberon, Rosalind Russell and their husbands.

When the party left the dinner table, Sinatra put his arm around the young actress who portrays Allison Mackenzie in the TV drama Peyton Place, and together they walked to a motor launch.

Sinatra has been married twice, the last time to actress Ava Gardner.

Remap Plan Dies, But Not Dirksen

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A proposed constitutional amendment, designed to water down the Supreme Court's "one man, one vote" rule, landed in a Senate pigeonhole today, but most lawmakers agreed the battle was far from over.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen's effort to short - circuit the high court's decisions on state legislative apportionment went down to defeat late yesterday on a 39 to 57 vote.

The proposal thus won popularity laurels but fell seven votes short of the two-thirds majority required for changes in the Constitution. The vote brought to at least a temporary conclusion a historic battle over the court's rule.

But Dirksen, who is nothing if not tenacious, vowed he would try again to substitute his apportionment amendment for one or another of the bills reaching the Senate in future days.

He singled out for possible attention the administration's bill to nullify "right to work" laws in 19 states. This measure, passed by the House, is a prime legislative goal of organized labor. It would repeal Section 14-B of the Taft-Hartley Act which permits states to ban "union shop" agreements.

In a 55-minute stem - winder urging approval, Dirksen defended his proposal against charges that it was a "rotten borough" amendment. "Go back to the people," he cried.

With sorrow in his organ voice, he recounted what he termed the "erosion of state sovereignty" by Congress and the high court.

Then, as the galleries roared, he recited what the late Sen. J. Hamilton Lewis, D-Ill., once told him:

"Young man, you'll see the day when the only people interested in state boundaries will be Rand and McNally."

Congress Passes Voting Rights Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The voting rights bill, a historic measure which could work deep changes in American political life, needed only President Johnson's signature today to become the law of the land.

The Senate, in an action the jubilant Chief Executive lauded as "a proud moment for this nation," voted final approval of the bill 79 to 18 last night, just 13 months and 2 days after passage of the sweeping Civil Rights Act of 1964.

The President did not say when he would sign the bill, but he planned to confer with the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. today on the forthcoming White House civil rights conference and could take the opportunity then.

Even before formal enactment, the administration was gearing up for swift implementation of the measure.

Atty. Gen. Nicholas Deb. Katzenbach said the Justice Department would now "undertake immediate efforts toward achieving full compliance with the rights of citizenship reaffirmed and guaranteed by this historic act."

He called off a scheduled trip to Stockholm, withdrawing as chairman of the U.S. delegation to a United Nations conference on crime and punishment in the Swedish capital, to get to work. He planned to file suits challenging state and local poll taxes in four states within hours after the bill is signed.

Johnson was so pleased at the Senate vote last night that he paid a spur-of-the-moment visit to the Capitol to congratulate Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, Mont., and his Republican counterpart, Everett M. Dirksen, Ill.

He said the bill "brings within our immediate vision the day when every American can enter the polling booth without fear or hindrance," and he praised congressmen of both parties who voted for the measure. "Their action honors them as much as it perfects our country," the President said.

Dutch Ship's Asian Crew Still Striking

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The Urdu-speaking Pakistani crew of a Dutch passenger - freighter, striking over claims of bad food and harsh treatment, remained ashore today as negotiations with ship's owners were expected to come to a head.

American stevedorese and sailors, the world's best paid, chipped in to care for the crew members on land. Meanwhile, the crew demanded free transportation back home.

The 40 Pakistanis left the 8,304 gross-ton Friesland Tuesday, a few hours before she was to sail for Longview, Wash. The same day the crew's complaints of spoiled meat, lumpy rice and blows by ship's officers won support of two powerful American labor unions, the International Longshoremen and Warehousemen and the National Maritime Union.

Ship's agents called the claims "ridiculous."

A local television station showed crew members displaying food they smuggled off the ship. The crew picketed the ship yesterday shouting in Urdu, "Food no good."

Police Hunting Officer's Killers

CHICAGO (AP)—Police intensified their search today for two brothers wanted for questioning in connection with the slaying of a 17-year veteran of the Chicago police force.

Sgt. Charles Eichorst, 45, was fatally shot yesterday as he tried to prevent the robbery of a North Side supermarket. The slaying touched off what police described as the biggest manhunt in recent Chicago history.

Eichorst captured one of two gunmen and was searching him when the second robber dashed out of the store and shot the policeman.

The gunmen fled with an estimated $3,000 taken from the safe of the grocery. Police said all the money carried in a paper bag was recovered because the bag became torn and the currency dropped out.

Tourist Wounded In Motel Holdup

DENVER, Colo. (AP)—Alfred N. Schroeder, 37, of Newark, Calif., was shot in the neck today when he walked in on a robbery of a motel where he was staying.

Schroeder was reported in critical condition at Denver General Hospital.

Police quoted him as saying he went to the motel office to get some aspirin. Two armed men were preparing to leave after forcing night clerk Ken Downey, 54, to lie on the floor where he was beaten unconscious.

Schroeder told officers he was ordered by the gunmen to get behind a counter.

"Apparently I didn't move fast enough," he said. One of the men shot him as they ran out a door.

Sewer Charge Is Authorized On Tax Roll

Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District board last night authorized a sewer service charge on the tax roll after a hearing at which there were no protests.

Mrs. Helen Koulkes, recording secretary, said placing the charge on the tax roll is less expensive than sending out bills.

The board also accepted Northgate Industrial Park Unit 1, and tentatively approved San Rafael Park Unit 2, a 25.5 acre subdivision along Lucas Valley Road for sewer service.

Mrs. Foulkes said the board is still taking applications for the new position of district manager. The next board meeting will be Thursday.

The body was discovered by a search party which included two deputy sheriffs and Sheriff-Coroner Reno Bartolomie.

It is believed that Walsh was resting on the trail when he suffered a heart attack. He had been missing since yesterday evening after he left his ranch home to inspect his stock. The only known survivor is his wife, Dorothy.

VIET

munist North Viet Nam has moved the headquarters of an entire army division from Laos into nominally neutral Cambodia. The headquarters directs the operations of the North Vietnamese 325th Division. It was last reported in South Viet Nam's central highlands after infiltrating from Laos.

Intelligence sources said yesterday that the U.S. Army 1st Cavalry Division (Mobile) will soon enter the central highlands of South Viet Nam to confront the Communist 325th Division.

The new Communist headquarters — believed established without the permission or even the knowledge of Cambodian authorities — was pinpointed about 270 miles north of Saigon in a roadless wilderness. The Communist division is believed to number close to 10,000 men.

Also in Saigon, Gen. W.C. Westmoreland, commander of U.S. forces in South Viet Nam, announced today the formation of the first combat command over United States fighting forces here.

Dog Death Suit Asks For $6,300

Loss of a pedigreed German shorthair dog which allegedly died from injuries caused by a neighboring dog has resulted in a $6,300 damage suit filed yesterday in Marin Superior Court.

The suit terms the Brady animal as having a "known vicious disposition."

Strawberry Park Changes Sought By Homeowners

A group of residents in the Strawberry Recreation District last night asked district directors to change Strawberry Park plans to allow for construction of a tot lot, golf driving range, badminton, handball and other uses.

The group led by David Neuman asked that the position of the baseball field be changed to allow addition of some of the uses, director George L. Lopes reported. Directors tabled the requests.

The district approved a request of homeowners along the canal off Strawberry to widen a portion of it, using the dirt to elevate the small island offshore, not enlarge it, so that it will be less swampy and can be used for recreation purposes, Lopes said.

The work would be done at homeowners' cost. The plan now will go before county supervisors.

San Rafael Girl Admits Shoplift On Fourth Street

A 15-year-old San Rafael girl admitted yesterday she had shoplifted about $120 worth of clothing and glassware from Fourth Street stores during the past two months.

Sgt. Louis Foster, San Rafael juvenile officer, said the case came to light after the mother became suspicious when her daughter began accumulating new clothes and especially when the youngster presented her mother with an expensive negligee set.

Sergeant Foster said the girl admitted taking clothing from Macy's and Penney's, and glassware from Ludells. The smaller items she would put in her handbag, and skirts she would wear out of the stores.

She said a 13-year-old girl friend helped her in taking one small item from Ludells. The 15-year-old is being held in Marin Juvenile Hall. The younger girl was referred to probation officials.

GAS

tween $30 million and $35 million.

FPC experts calculated that two thirds to three - quarters of the total refunds eventually would go to individual consumers.

The Permian Basin — a geographical term—supplies about 11 per cent of all interstate natural gas used by the country's 36 million consumers.

No Estimate Given

Revenues from sales of Permian gas are in excess of $126 million annually. However, experts declined to estimate how much the average household usere may get in refund.

Under present procedures, rates are set for the several thousand individual gas producers who sell in interstate commerce. It takes several months, and sometimes years, to process such cases through the FPC. There are several thousand pending at this time.

Approximately 85 per cent of Permian gas is consumed in California by customers of El Paso Natural Gas Co. and Trans Western Pipeline Co. These companies also supply some markets in Colorado and Kansas. The remainder is consumed by customers of Northern Natural Gas Co. in Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Minnesota, Nebraska, New Mexico, Oklahoma, South Dakota, Texas and Wisconsin.

The commission adopted a dual-pricing system for new and old gas recommended in an examiner's initial decision in the case, issued last September. It reasoned that a higher price for newly discovered gas would spur exploration.

The FPC did not adopt the examiner's recommendations in their entirety but generally accepted his findings.

Children Blamed For Grass Blaze

A grass fire which Marin County firemen blamed on children playing with matches burned three acres above Orange Street and below Tiburon Boulevard in California Park, just outside San Rafael city limits yesterday afternoon.

Brought under control by four county fire-fighting units, the blaze sent up billows of smoke which settled as a thick haze over Ross Valley.

Marinwood Puts Lid On Teen-Age Dances

The Marinwood Parks and Recreation Commission has placed a moratorium on night teen-age dances at the community center in the aftermath of brief brawls at the center last Saturday.

No more dances will be scheduled until a tighter set of rules and policies are set and approved by the Marinwood Community Services District board, reported commissioner William T. Lane Jr.

Commissioners met Tuesday night with about 16 residents who live in the neighborhood to discuss proposals for regulating night activities.

Commissioners called a special session at 8 p.m. Aug. 17 at the center to establish regulations for night activities including all teen-age functions and rental use of the center.

One of the functions that disturbed residents was the rental of the center to a Marin firm for an employees' party that created a nuisance on the fringes of the center area, Lane said.

Reuther Talks Aid

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (AP)—Walter Reuther, head of the United Auto Workers Union in the United States says the U.S. should spend $20 billion annually to aid underdeveloped nations. Doctors Argue Eyeglass Trade

WASHNGTON (UPI) — The American Medical Assn. (AMA) today defended as "both reasonable and equitable" its rules permitting eye doctors to sell as well as prescribe eyeglasses.

Dr. William O. Lamotte Jr. of Kennett Square, Pa., explained the AMA's rules in testimony prepared for delivery before a Senate subcommittee investigating whether the practice is unfair competition.

The practice of eye doctors selling glasses has come under heavy fire from opticians and other witnesses who testified previously before the subcommittee.

State Prison Official Says Vacaville Unit All Straight

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Administrative problems at the state's Vacaville Medical Facility for prisoners have been cleared up, Corrections Director Walter Dunbar reports.

He replied yesterday to reports of various irregularities at the big facility. All irregularities encountered have been corrected, and "The staff at Vacaville is doing a good job," he remarked.

These are the reports he cited, and the results of his review:

The facility does employ two workers with arrest records, but neither was convicted and both were hired in full knowledge of their past. Four parolees work at Vacaville in clerical and research posts, but this is not unusual.

In two cases, clinical reports on prisoners were changed, once by the clinician who originally made the report and the other time by the staff after the doctor who made the report took another job. Dunbar said that in the future, any changes in such reports must be initialed by the original writer after consultation among other doctors.

Dr. William Keating, the facility superintendent, has been told to make no further loans to employes. He earlier admitted to a four-year, $250,000 loan to a subordinate, but said all except $29,000 had been paid.

The subordinate, Dr. Marvin R. Schafer, was accused in June of trying to sell drugs to inmates, and resigned. A week later he died during a fire while trying to pour gas into his car.

Dunbar said the local district attorney investigated the entire case, but the death was found an accident and no Vacaville employes were implicated.

HOT CATS PLAY IT COOL

Swimming usually is shunned by felines, but these pets belonging to Allan Young, 16, of Vancouver, British Columbia, are glad to join him at the old swimmin' hole during the hot weather that has been afflicting the area this summer. How do the kitties swim? Dog-paddle, of course. (AP Wirephoto)

Indian Advises Snake Fanciers

BIG CYPRESS, Fla. (AP) — The trick to catching rattlesnakes with your bare hands is NOT to move fast, reports an 18-year-old Seminole Indian expert, James Osceola.

"The secret is to move your hand very slowly. A rattlesnake will not strike an object that is moving very slowly."

Nevertheless, he said, the safest way is the conventional one of pinning the snake's lethal head down with a forked stick and grasping it by the neck, out of reach of the poison-injecting fangs.

Scientist Has Idea For Food

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Dr. William D. Gray, professor of botany and plant pathology at Ohio State University, may have part of the answer to the world's dwindling protein supply.

Gray plans to produce a synthetic protein from fungi. When harvested the fungal tissue looks like cooked tapioca and is odorless and tasteless.

The process devised by Gray converts carbohydrates, such as blackstrap molasess, beet molasses or whole sugar beets into protein.

Felon Set Free By Mistake Captured By FBI In Seattle

SEATTLE (AP) — FBI agents arrested Robert A. Woodfod, 26, one of the agency's 10 Most Wanted criminals, today in a downtown hotel room.

"He was armed with a .22 revolver but had no chance to use it," said J. E. Milnes, in charge of te FBI in Seattle.

Woodford had been sought since he was inadvertently released from custody in San Francisco Dec. 14, 1964, after the withdrawal of a federal indictment for the $1,222 robbery of the main branch of the First National Bank of San Jose, Calif., Jan. 16, 1964.

Milnes quoted Woodford as saying:

"I'm glad it's over."

After withdrawal of the federal indictment for the bank robbery in San Jose, Woodford was accidentally set free instead of being returned to a California state prison, the FBI said.

Three days later a federal warrant was issued charging him with unlawful interstate flight to avoid confinement for a robbery conviction.

The FBI said Woodford's arrest record includes convictions for armed robbery, assault and burglary.

In his hotel room, the FBI said it found an advertisement for a correspondence course on how to be a crime fighter.

Allen Camp Dam Project Backed

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — The proposed Allen Camp Dam and Reservoir in Lassen and Modoc counties is a good project, and should be built as soon as possible, the resources agency told the U.S. Department of the Interior today.

In its official comments on the proposed irrigation project being planned by the bureau of reclamation on the Pit River, the resources agency said that provisions for fish and wildlife and public access to the project should be stressed.

LAGOON PROTEST VERDICT AWAITED

Supervisors Study Belvedere Assessment Plea After Court-Like, Day-Long Hearing

Marin County supervisors yesterday heard a consolidated assessment protest from 141 Belvedere Lagoon residents for five hours and then took the case under study.

Supervisors, sitting as a board of equalization, have to make a decision by Tuesday, and Supervisor Peter H. Behr said he would have his decision by tomorrow night.

Attorney Richard B. Weinstein, representing the property owners, argued that the lagoon assessments are higher than assessments on comparable property elsewhere in the county.

The hearing was conducted in a courtroom atmosphere with County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney representing Assessor Bert W. Broemmel and a court reported on hand.

Weinstein contended the ratio of sales prices to appraisal on the Lagoon properties is higher than the ratio applied to property of similar value elsewhere.

"The ratio should be the same, and that's what we consider unfair," he said.

Broemmel said the ratios "are not so disproportionate to other areas of the county so as to result in discrimination or unfair and unequalized valuation" in light of all factors.

During the session Weinstein compared Lagoon property with those in Kent Woodlands, and Broemmel countered that lagoon property is unique.

"The only areas that have a similar degree of merit are Belvedere Island, certain areas of Sausalito and hardly anything else," Broemmel said.

Weinstein said that a 49 per cent assessment increase at one time was an intolerable burden on the taxpayer and asked that the increase be spread over several years.

The case was heard by Behr, Thomas T. Storer and Byron W. Leydecker. Supervisor William A. Gnoss and Ernest N. Kettenhofen were absent.

The National Student Association was founded in 1947 to serve the American student community through services, programs and publications.

Scott Resigning Council In Ross

Ross Town Councilman Harry C. Scott has resigned from the civic post, effective next Monday.

Scott told the Independent-Journal last night that he had been talking of retirement for some time, in order to have more time with his family, but had wanted to see the long-awaited remodeling of the Ross Town Common actually under way before bowing out.

"It'll be exactly eight years and three months . . .the job has been interesting and I give it up with a great deal of reluctance, but I just decided it was time to move on," explained the attorney and former college athlete.

He resigned by letter yesterday, and said the council, long forewarned, probably will find a replacement by its meeting next Thursday.

Scott lives at 50 Wellington Avenue, with his wife, Bernice, and children Kathryn, Martha and Craig. He is a partner in Pillsbury, Madison and Sutro in San Francisco. As a student at Cornell University, he was a member of the Cornell-Princeton track team which competed in England with the Oxford-Cambridge track team in July, 1938.

During his council service, he served several years as mayor.

A German study indicates that the noise of boiler factories, railroad stations and airports stunts the growth and weakens the hearts of nearby children.

Barret Nicol of 89 Melville Avenue was reported in good condition today at Marin General Hospital.

Military Salary Hike Measure Is Gaining

WASHINGTON (AP) — A $1 billion annual pay increase for the 2.7 million persons now on duty in the nation's fighting forces won unanimous approval today by the Senate Armed Services Committee.

The Senate committee made a number of changes in a House-approved bill but kept virtually the same dollar total, which is more than twice the amount the administration had asked.

Included in the broad measure, which now moves to the Senate for indicated approval, was a $10 a month increase in special combat pay, from $55 to $65, for men and officers now in the Viet Nam fighting areas.

"This is largely an enlisted man's pay increase bill now," Chairman Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., told newsmen.

Russell said his committee revised a similar military pay increase approved by the House to apply across-the-board increased in base pay for both officers and enlisted personnel.

All officers, both commissioned and warrant, with more than two years service would get a 6 per cent boost in base pay.

All enlisted personnel would get an 11 per cent increase.

Waldie Answers Gas Tax Critics

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A democratic assemblyman says elimination of the 1 cent emergency gas tax is a repudiation of critics who claimed the tax never would be cut.

"The legislature and the governor promised that, when enough money was raised to repair the flood damage in Northern California, the special one-cent tas tax would be eliminated," Assemblyman Jerome R. Waldie, D-Antioch, said yesterday.

The lawmaker added that the announcement by Gov. Edmund G. Brown that the tax would be halted four months before the legal expiration was "evidence of the good faith of the legislature and the administration."

State Employee Pay Hikes Called 'Token, Inadequate'

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Recent pay boosts for 92,942 full-time state employees were called "token and inadequate" today by the lobbyist for the California State Employees' Association.

The State Personnel Board was called upon by Loren Smith, representing the association, to submit a special report to the governor and legislature on the issue of clerical salaries.

This should be done before the legislature meets in special session in October, Smith said at the board's monthly meeting.

The legislature granted salary hikes averaging 4.4 per cent during the 1965 general session with the annual cost of the increases slightly under $34 million.

Video Star Ailing

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actor Raymond Burr has left work on the "Perry Mason" television show and will enter a hospital today for tests to determine cause of fluctuating fever.

When Ellis Island finally came into the hands of the United States Government, it served as an artillery garrison and arsenal before becoming the chief immigration station in 1892.

Aviation Insurance Pools Hit

NEW YORK (AP)—The government accused seveal insurance groups today of conspiring to monopolize the $125-million-a-year aviation insurance business.

Federal court suits asked the court to dissolve the aviation insurance pools of two corporations and three associations, accusing them of conspiring since 1928.

As a result, the suits contended, airlines and other operators of aircraft have been denied the benefits of unrestricted competition in insuring aircraft, and some insurance companies have been prevented from writing such policies.

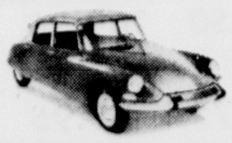

Named defendants in one suit were United States Aviation Underwriters, Inc., manager of an insurance pool for member companies, and United States Aircraft Insurance Group, an association of the same companies.

Accused in a second suit were Associated Aviation Underwriters, an association of insurance companies which manages an aviation insurance pool for member companies; Chubb and Son, Inc., and Marine Office of America, joint agents for some member companies of the association; and representatives of other member companies.

The government estimated that premiums for aviation insurance in the United States last year amounted to $125 million, of which about $100 million was paid for aircraft hull and aircraft liability insurance.

Larkspur Seeking Removal Of Arks

The Larkspur City Council last night asked for removal of the arks on the north and south sides of Bon Air bridge.

The arks are all on the west side of Corte Madera Creek on Boardwalks 2 and 3 south of the bridge and Boardwalk 4 north of the bridge.

Larkspur City Mgr. Ronald E. Piper estimated that there are 20 to 30 arks in the area and some are unoccupied. Arks on Boardwalk 1 are not involved.

The council action was in the form of a resolution to the State Lands Commission asking that leases for the arks not be renewed and declaring that many of the arks are in an "unsightly and uninhabitable condition."

The state owns the property bordering the creek. Leases, most on a 10-year basis, started expiring in June, Piper said.

All the arks above the bridge will be taken out by the Corte Madera Creek flood control project due to start next year. "Unfortunately, these are in better shape than the ones below the bridge," Piper told the Independent-Journal.

Last night's action was taken with little discussion. The resolution to the State Lands Commission was not listed on the agenda distributed in advance of the meeting.

Piper said that he had earlier prepared a draft of the resolution and submitted it to the commission for any suggested changes. It was returned with only minor changes.

The commission must now act on the resolution.

Brown Criticizes Los Angeles Plan On Poverty War

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—Warning that the anti-poverty program planned by officials in Los Angeles may not be acceptable to the federal government was issued today by Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

At the same time, the governor refused state participation in the program on grounds that as long as he has veto power over the program, he believes representatives of the governor should not serve on the board.

The program, which is first concerned with make-up of the Los Angeles board, contemplates appointment of the six members representing poverty districts by supervisors and the city council.

The governor said such a procedure would be in violation of federal policy and also unacceptable to him.

The governor wants the appointment "through the Democratic process," he indicated.

The money, plus $882,000 in university funds, will finance construction of four student residences with a connecting wing and an adjoining faculty residence. The residence halls will accommodate 204 men students.

Bi-Racial Group Formed In Americus; No Sanctions

By U. P. INTERNATIONAL

A bi-racial committee was formed yesterday to try to solve the racial difficulties at Americus, Ga., but it lacked the sanction of city and county officials and one member of the committee said its announcement was premature.

Warren Fortson, county attorney who had been plugging for the formation of the committee, said the announcement was "most regrettable. . .a tragedy."

Fortson, who has been the target of a campaign by whites to have him removed from office, said some of the white men who had agreed to serve with him on the committee had already been subjected to harrassment.

In Greenville, Ala., yesterday a group of about 25 persons at a street barricade was dispersed by police who threw tear gas. The demonstrators answered with a brief shower of bricks and bottles but there was only one injury—a policeman who suffered a hand cut when he held a tear gas grenade too long.

Elsewhere:

Selma, Ala.: A federal judge heard testimony yesterday in a move by Negroes to obtain federal protection for demonstrators seeking to march down the main street of Greensboro unhampered by police.

Chicago: Seventy demonstrators disregarded Mayor Richard J. Daley's plea for privacy and marched on his home for the fourth successive night last night in a continuing protest against alleged de facto school segregation.

Location Of Proposed Bridge For Larkspur Looms A City Problem

Location of a proposed bridge across Corte Madera Creek to connect Via Casitas with the extension of Riviera Circle in Larkspur, loomed as a problem before the Larkspur council last night.

"I want to see all the alternatives before I act on this," Councilman Vaughn M. Marker said.

City Mgr. Ronald E. Piper said there are really only two choices. If the bridge comes into the proposed Greenbrae Marina Subdivision No. 2, it will mean a bad intersection in the proposed tract, simply because there is not enough room to permit left turns off the west end of the bridge.

The other choice is to locate the bridge further north, out of the tract.

Developer Niels Schultz Jr. has offered the land for the westward footing of the bridge in the marina tract and has said he will contribute to the bridge cost, Piper said.

Building the bridge outside the tract would mean missing these contributions, Piper said.

The bridge must have a 21-foot clearance to allow navigation and will thus be costly, Piper explained.

The discussion arose in connection with the final map of the tract. Council put off action on the map due to the absence of city engineer Beverly J. Whitlow who was ill.

Piper said he is sure Whitlow will explore all alternatives and include cost estimates on the problem. Whitlow has already said the intersection in the tract would be a poor one, Piper told the council.

The Larkspur City Council Also:

1. Agreed to endorse Mayors Edward W. Colthurst of Corte Madera and Robert D. Carrow of Novato as city representatives on the Marin Transit District.

2. Set public hearing Sept. 1 on the appeal of Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Rasmussen of 400 Elm Avenue against the lot split granted Dawn Worth at 410 Elm Avenue. The split, approved by the city planning commission, allows two 9,200 square foot lots.

3. Held first reading of an amendment to the building code ordinance which generally incorporates provisions of the 1964 uniform building and plumbing code and the 1962 uniform electrical code. Final action is slated Sept. 1.

4. Held first reading of amendments to the animal control ordinance extending licensing deadline from Aug. 1 to Aug. 31 and doing away with the charge for quarantine animals. Final action is set Sept. 1.

5. Learned from Councilman Earl J. O'Grady that the property of Leland Rose at 52 Millard Road is still a long way from being cleaned of refuse and debris. Piper suggested that the council not take further action at this time as the building inspector is making progress with the owner and his attorney.

6. Heard from O'Grady that there will be a full report Sept. 1 on the master agenda, a list of policy items that have been before the council some time.

7. Asked that letters of thanks be written the City-County Services Committee and the board of supervisors for action aimed at reducing double taxation for city dwellers.

8. Agreed with Piper that city department heads had done a good job in keeping city functions within the budget during the past fiscal year.

Suspect Arrested In Sierra Attack

PLACERVILLE (AP) — A Tulsa, Okla., man is being held by the El Dorado County sheriff's office on suspicion of kidnapping, rape and car theft, the sheriff's office said today.

Authorities report a 21-year-old Truckee woman said she was abducted in her car last night and raped on a back road near Truckee.

The woman identified Bert Lee Reinhardt, 24, as the assailant who, she said, then tossed her out of the car. The woman, slightly injured, contacted police.

Reinhardt was apprehended by a roadblock set up at the Placerville city limits and was taken to the county jail pending formal charges, a sheriff's deputy said.

Neighbors Happy Now—Synanon

Marin County residents, who a year ago opposed the presence of Synanon Foundations dehabilitation center for narcotics addicts at Marshall, on Tomales Bay, have changed their minds.

This claim was made this morning by Ron Silva, a resident of Synanon at Marshall, during radio station KTIM's "Marin Sounding Board" program.

"Our image has changed in the one year we have been at Marshall," said Silva, an agent in charge of the northern California division of Synanon.

Silva said Marin residents are now donating their time, food, furniture, clothing "and even a few head of cattle" to the foundation.

He explained the foundation's "success," saying "Marin residents realize we contribute something constructive to the taking the addict off the streets of San Rafael and rehabilitating him."

Stanton G. Ware, a San Francisco attorney representing property owners in Marshall expressed surprise that Silva believed his foundation had the support of Marin residents.

"A great majority of Marshall's residents—at least 94 of 95 of them have signed petitions opposing Synanon's presence in Marshall. I would say that at least the community immediatly surrounding Synanon does not support the foundation."

During the program Silva explained that his foundation has requested a use permit to operate at the advice of the county planning staff and planning commission.

The move does not conflict with Synanon's court fight which claims the center is a single family dwelling and does not need such a permit, he said.

"Our plans for expansion are such that in the future, we will no longer be a single family dwelling," Silva said.

He explained that the foundation would like to build an additional 30,000 feet of floor space at the Marshall site. The plans call for 320 residents, he said, but if all the foundation's property were used it would be possible to accomodate 1,000.

Ware argued, that the land "at this location is best suited for recreation."

Silva was accompanied on the program by his wife, who said she entered Synanon two and one years ago after attempting suicide in Los Angeles.

Mrs. Silva said before she entered Synanon she steadily used such drugs as heroin and marijuana but that since that time she has never reverted to the drugs.

The program, moderated by Kitty Oppenheimer, will be rebroadcast by tape recording Sunday at 12:30 p.m.

Police Oral Exams Slated

Oral examinations will be given this Saturday for 13 men who passed the written examinations for patrolmen positions on the San Rafael Police force.

Chief Charles J. Chiesa said that five new patrolmen will be picked. Forty men took the original written examination.

On Saturday's oral board will be Lt. William Walsh of Mill Valley Police Department, Sgt. James Dukes of California Highway Patrol, and Sgt. James Carlton of San Rafael Police Department.

Censorship On Bay Area Troop Moves

Army secrecy over troop movements to Viet Nam has has prevented at least one set of Marin County parents from seeing their son before he is shipped overseas.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward D. Vigno of 693 Hawthorne Drive, Tiburon, learned last week their son, Pvt. Edward J. Vigno, was to pass through the Oakland Army Terminal on his way to Viet Nam from Fort Leonard Wood, Mo.

Mrs. Vigno is switchboard operator at the Independent-Journal.

Queried yesterday by the I-J, the Army terminal's public information office offered hope of informing Mrs. Vigno when her son would arrive in Oakland so she could see him off.

After further investigation, however, information officers said the troop movement was classified and they were unable to give out any information on when, how long or even wether Pvt. Vigno's battalion would be at the Army terminal before leaving this country.

Dixie School Board Votes Budget Hike

The Dixie School District board last night adopted a $2,089,711 budget for fiscal 1966, an increase of $173,625 over last year.

The general fund tax rate is estimated at $2.72 per $100 assessed valuation, a 1.5-cent drop from last year, Supt. Dennie B. Willis reported.

The bond interest and redemption tax for fiscal 1966 has not been determined. It was 34.5 cents last year.

Trustees adopted the budget after a hearing which was attended by 16 persons, most of them members of the district's finance study group.

The Dixie School District board also:

1. Authorized an agreement with Lucas Valley Homes Owners Assn. for the rental of a room at the community center for classroom use until facilities at Dixie School are ready, at a cost of $50 a month.
2. Authorized the expenditure of $815 for installation of benches at Miller Creek School and $650 for concrete walks at Nova Albion School.
3. Authorized the expenditure of $24,000 for books and equipment under the National Defense Education Act whereby the district will be reimbursed for half the cost.
4. Accepted the resignation of Deborah Deutermann, Kindergarten teacher at Bernard Hoffman School, and hired Mrs. Wilma Pedley to succeed her at a salary of $5,850 a year.
5. Hired Mrs. Beatrice Garkus as secretary to the superintendent at a salary of $5,346 a year; Mrs. Sylvia Greenberg, secretary to the district librarian, 10 months at $3,082, and William E. Rosser, custodian-bus driver at $466 a month.

Grand Jury Indicts 3: Morals, Escape, Knife

Emmett Dexter Nelson, 44, of 78 Spindrift Passage, Corte Madera, was indicted by Marin County Grand Jury yesterday for allegedly committing a lewd and lascivious act upon a 6-year-old Corte Madera girl July 4.

Nelson, free on $1,100 bail, is accused of molesting the child at Albert Field, San Rafael.

Indictments also were returned against two San Quentin Prison inmates, Richard Joseph Jurczak and James F. Ratliff.

Jurczak, 36, is accused of escaping from the firehouse just outside the prison walls April 5. He was captured in May in San Diego.

Jurczak has three convictions —robbery in Los Angeles County on May 17, 1957; possession of firearms by a convicted felon in Los Angeles County on Feb. 20, 1962; and robbery in San Diego County last June 28, a conviction which followed his alleged escape.

Ratliff was indicted for possession of a knife June 29. He was convicted Jan. 20, 1961, in Tulare County for burglary, and Sept. 1, 1961, in San Bernardino County for escape.

Ross Valley's Sanitary Tax Rate Trimmed

A final budget of $131,603 which will mean a four-cent reduction in the current 18-cent tax rate per $100 assesse valuation was approved by the Ross Valley Sanitary District board last night.

The tax rate for the budget which is $10,465 less than the 1964-65 budget, was reduced because of an increase in assessed valuation in the district, manager Ralph C. Noah said.

He said last year's budget also included funds for capital outlay at the treatment plant in east Greenbrae for that year only.

The board appointed Philip F. Kendall of 229 Los Angeles Boulevard, San Anselmo, a public accountant, to succeed the late Camille P. Remy as a district director.

State Aide Due Surgery

SACRAMENTO (AP) — State Employment Director Albert B. Tieburg was scheduled to undergo a second operation today for a possible blocked artery in his left leg, a spokesman for Sutter Memorial Hospital said.

Tieburg, who has been hospitalized since July 21, underwent a similar operation 10 days ago.

The spokesman said he was resting comfortably.

Rusk Says Door Open For Peace

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States continues to keep the door open for peace and would welcome a peaceful solution of the Viet Nam war, Secretary of State Dean Rusk told the Girls' Nation today.

"We would be glad to go to the conference table, but thus far Hanoi and Peking say no," Rusk told the 100 delegates, representing the high school girl students of 50 states.

Peace, Rusk said, "has to be guarded. The United States is confronted with efforts of others who apply force against their neighbors."

Martin Luther King Talks To Capital Rights Rallies

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., told thousands of cheering Washington Negroes today to work "to be willing to march around the walls of Jericho" to secure a better life.

King, winding up a tour of four northern cities, addressed two neighborhood rallies before going to the Capitol for a lunch with a score of members of Congress who deal with District of Columbia matters.

He had a later afternoon appointment with President Johnson and arranged to lead a night march through Washington streets to the White House to thank the President for his pressing for home rule in the district.

At a neighborhood rally on a vacant lot, King told about 4,000 listeners that some southern members of Congress do not want to see home rule "because they know Negroes of quality, dedication and intelligence will be in some of the most important policy making positions of this city." Washington has a larger Negro population than white.

King also mentioned communism, which some critics say has infiltrated the civil rights movement.

"We have not turned to foreign, ideology to solve our problems," King said. "We have not turned to communism to solve our problem ... we know that we can work in the framework of our democracy."

At a second rally where some 2,000 gathered, King's associate the Rev. Ralph Abernethy, set the crowd cheering and clapping.

Abernethy said that the White House has 20 bathrooms and within a few blocks of it there are homes with one room and no bathroom.

"We don't want to be a white man's brother-in-law — we just want to be his brother," Abernethy said, and the crowd cheered.

Driver Fined $220

Woman Named To High Post

WASHINGTON (A) — The White House announced today the appointment of Irene Parsons as assistant administrator for personnel of the Veterans Administration, and said she will assume the highest government personnel post held by a woman.

Press secretary Bill D. Moyers said Miss Parsons was chosen by Veteran's Administrator William S. Driver in response to President Johnson's call for the appointment of qualified women to top government positions.

In the $22,000-a-year post, she will be the top-ranking woman in the VA, the government's third largest agency.

LBJ'S DOGS MAKE THEIR MARK

There is no longer any doubt that President Johnson's dogs are making their mark at the White House, in a concrete way. Johnson, taking his dogs, Him the beagle and Blanco the collie, for a walk yesterday, came on some new paving near the office wing. In true Hollywood fashion he pressed Him's paw into the freshly poured concrete. Blanco is shown awaiting his turn at left. (UPI Telephoto)

Husband Chase Ends With Many Tickets

CHICAGO (UPI) — Thomas Hanna is the type of man who tried to avoid a scene with his wife. Yesterday he tried so hard he got 39 traffic tickets in the process.

Hanna, 31, of suburban Palos Park, was driving a woman entertainer home from a Chicago night club when he was spotted by his wife, Marilyn, 31, who was driving another car.

Marilyn, who is touchy about whom her husband drives home, began to chase him. So did the Chicago police, who are touchy about drivers who exceed the speed limit.

Hanna struck a construction barricade, stopped, pushed his companion out of the car, and sped away. Mrs. Hanna and the Chicago police stopped to question the woman, who identified herself as Mrs. Frances Wallace, 23, Chicago.

Meanwhile the chase was taken up by suburban and state policemen, two of whom collided with each other. Hanna scooted in and out of several suburbs. His car was finally spotted parked on the lawn in front of his parents home on the far South Side of Chicago.

Hanna was hiding in the attic and wouldn't come down. Police finally forced him out by throwing a tear gas bomb in the attic.

He was charged with 20 traffic violations by Chicago police and 19 by suburban police. He was also charged with assault by Mrs. Wallace.

In 1963 the leading industries in numbers of employes in the United States were: Food, 1.64 million; transportation, 1.61 million; electrical machinery, 1.47 million; machinery except electrical, 1.46 million; apparel, 1.3 million.

Coast School District Board Votes Budget

A budget of $168,935 was approved last night by trustees of the Bolinas-Stinson Union School District.

The budget for the past fiscal year was $142,050 with a general purpose tax rate of $1.155 which with override taxes brought the total rate to $1.225.

The total rate this year still is unknown, Mrs. Alyce Thompson, board chairman said, as the effect of the Tamalpais area unification failure under the Unruh Act has not yet been figured. She estimated the general purpose rate at $1.20 per $100 assessed valuation.

Trustees meeting Wednesday at the Bolinas School may appoint someone to fill the vacancy created when Irving E. Levine moved from the district.

People bought 565,000 new one-family houses in 1964. Of this total, 120,000 were in the $25,000 or over price range.

Hiroshima's Anniversary Is Tomorrow

HIROSHIMA, Japan (AP) — Thriving Hiroshima observes tomorrow the 20th anniversary of mankind's initiation to atomic war with its citizens increasingly resentful of the leftist antibomb rallies staged every year, mostly by organized outsiders.

"I wish they will leave us alone," said an elderly taxi driver.

He said he lost his wife when the atomic bomb razed Hiroshima at 8:15 a.m. Aug. 6, 1945.

It is estimated from 180,000 to 250,000 of the city's population—then 400,000 — were killed or maimed.

Hiroshima now is a bustling city of a half-million. Only 93,000 are known to have been residents at the time of the explosion.

A steady flow of citizens, survivors, relatives, old and young people kneeled on the concrete slabs before the memorial in the pace park, lighting a candle or an incense stick, or standing in brief silent prayer.

But their prayers were disturbed by cries of "America get out of Viet Nam," shouted into a microphone by speakers haranguing a Communist meeting in a nearby baseball park.

Viet Nam is a key issue at the antibomb rallies.

Reedy Named To Help Ship Strike Talks

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Former White House Press Secretary George E. Reedy has been assigned to participate in current talks aimed at ending the seven-week-old shipping strike on the Atlantic and Gulf coasts.

White House Press Secretary Bill D. Moyers said President Johnson had asked Reedy yesterday to meet with Labor Secretary W. Willard Wirtz, Commerce Secretary John T. Connor and other officials to discuss the deadlocked negotiations.

Now It's Wignaping

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP)—Margaret Williams, 27, told police a man and a woman snatched her $150 dark auburn wig from her head yesterday night and fled in a car.

Housewife Switches Plea, Sentenced In Singer Death

SANTA ANA (UPI) — Mrs. Diane Shockey, 30, today began serving five years to life in the California Institution for Women at Frontera for the slaying of night club singer Jonnie Jaye.

Mrs. Shockey's husband, Robert, goes on trial Monday for aiding and abetting her.

Superior Judge Karl Lynn Davis yesterday sentenced Mrs. Shockey when she changed her plea from innocent to guilty of second-degree murder. It was the second day of her trial.

The judge asked Mrs. Shockey whether she had been subjected to pressure to change her plea. "There was no pressure," she said. "I tried to plead guilty back in June."

The Shockeys were arrested in Salt Lake City, Utah, last March. They had the victim's child with them at the time.

The body of the singer was found in a shallow grave in the desert at Yucca Valley, Calif.

The record life-span for a tiger is believed held by "Dacca," who died at New York's Bronx Zoo at the age of 20.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Hair Goes Into Resting Period, Governed By Complex Cycles

VAN DELLEN

Hair does not grow indefinitely. It stops sprouting on the scalp every two to six years and becames a club or resting hair. It hides for a few months in its follicle and is replaced by a new tuft. This cycle repeats but is not noticed because most of the hairs are in the growing stage. The daily moult involves 20 to 75 hairs.

VARIATIONS occur, because in the past some women let their hair grow down to the knees. This took at least 25 years because the shaft lengthens approximately one-hundreth inch per day. The cycle may be responsible for many hair growth disturbances that are blamed on glandular disorders. The pattern also is modified by age, sickness, and heredity. The growing phase, for example, may be shortened during a severe illness and marked thinning may occur when the percentage of resting hairs increases.

The growth period in the scalp is longer than elsewhere in the body. Tufts on the extremities, trunk, and eyebrows are active for six months and then rest for 30 days. In ringworm of the scalp, the fungi attack only the growing and not the resting hairs. Other scalp infections may last for years.

The lanugo (vellus) hairs constitute the fuzz which is present over most of the body. These fine, light-colored fibers usually are in the resting stage. Terminal hairs are adult structures: a follicle may produce a lanugo originally, a terminal hair during adulthood, and in senescence return to the vellus. The transition from the lanugo to the terminal type on the face follows a standard sequence — upper lip, chin, sides of cheeks, then the remainder of the beard area.

THE OPPOSITE process occurs at the frontal hairline in adolescence; the terminal is replaced by the vellus and produces the characteristic reshaping of the facial outline. Terminal hair on the trunk and limbs is profuse in males, but is widely distributed in both sexes during the years of sexual maturity. By age 50, almost 40 per cent of women have some terminal facial hair. By this age, some baldness or recession occurs to 60 per cent of men and to 14 per cent of women.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics by mail if stamped self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

STAY OUT OF THEM

D. C. writes: What are the chances of aquiring a scalp disease in a beauty shop where the combs and brushes are not sterilized?

REPLY

Unlikely, until someone with a contagious scalp infection has her hair done. This is where sterilization enters the picture. I would not have my hair cut in a shop that did not practice good hygiene.

SAGGING HEART

V. D. writes: Are there any exercises that could be done to keep the heart from sagging?

REPLY

Abdominal exercises that help hold in the tummy will keep the heart from dropping. On the other hand, if you mean you are downhearted, the best exercise I know is to run away from the blues.

TWITCHING

R. H. M. writes: Is twitching around the eyes due to nervoueness or eye trouble?

REPLY

Both are possiblities. Others include fatigue and over indulgence in coffee, tea, or tobacco.

NERVOUSNESS

S. P. writes: When under tension, I feel butterflies jumping inside my stomach. Is this due to nervousness or acidity?

REPLY

Nervousness.

String Attached To Sausalito Dredge Work

Sausalito Properties may dredge out an area offshore of Sausalito Marine Ways but the company may not dump the debris in a "pond" on the Sausalito shoreline, the city planning commission decreed last night.

The dredging is needed as a result of the silting caused by last year's Alaska earthquake, commission vice chairman Alan D. Bonapart reported. But commissionerse agreed that dumping the dredged material in the pond near the Sausalito Cruising Club would be against the city's bay fill moratorium.

The commission continued to Aug. 18 a request from United Sand and Gravel Division of A. G. Schoonmaker Co. that it be allowed to continue a gravel yard operation in Marinship through a zoning change.

The commission approved reclassification to steep parcels of land above Richardson Bay School from apartment to "public" classification to prevent apartment construction which would increase traffic on Ebbtide Avenue which many school children must cross. The land is owned by the state division of highways which is expected to sell it.

Pedestrian Hurt At San Rafael Crosswalk

A 22-year-old San Anselmo woman suffered hip bruises yesterday morning when a car struck her as she crossed Fourth Street at H Street in San Rafael.

Kathryn Elizabeth Skaer of 105 Jordan Avenue, who works for the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co., was treated at San Rafael General Hospital for bruises and released.

Driver of the car was Elsie Kaufman Vivier, 48, of 26 Spruce Road, Fairfax, who works at San Rafael General Hospital.

Miss Skaer told Officer Phillip D. Green she waited for the light and started across Fourth Street toward the telephone building shortly after 7 a.m. yesterday. She said the car lifted her in the air, and she landed on her right knee.

Police were investigating today.

School Tax Rate Up 23 Cents In Sausalito

The Sausalito school board last night approved a fiscal 1966 budget of $942,649 which will mean a $2.43 per $100 assessed value tax rate for the district.

Fiscal 1966 rate was $2.230.

Trustee Harold L. Sleight said he had gone into last night's meeting hoping to reduce the figure of the publication budget but finally agreed with other trustees to hold to it as "further economies would be unrealistic due to our present needs."

Included in the budget is $30,000 for the beginning of a program for refurbishing, maintenance and minor work on school buildings, including Manzanita School.

Trustees also approved keeping $72,000 in the reserve portion of the Budget which will be spent for education equipment such as books, maps, and audio-visual equipment.

The next board meeting will be Monday, when acting Supt. Hollis will report on possible desegregation and future programs he recommends for the district. A follow up meeting is scheduled Wednesday for full trustee discussion of the report, Sleight said.

Lawmaker Goes Home Following Head-On Crash

SANTA BARBARA (UPI) — Assemblyman Winfield Shoemaker, D-Santa Barbara, was to be released today from Cottage Hospital where he was taken following a traffic accident Monday.

A hospital attendant said that Shoemaker had been under observation for possible internal injuries but it had been determined he suffered only cuts and bruises.

Shoemaker and his administrative assistant, Mrs. James W. Boring, were injured in a head-on collision on U.S. 101 when another car crossed over the center line, officers said. The driver of the other car, James J. Morrissey, 57, was killed.

Nuclear Test Ban Signing Remembered

GENEVA (UPI) — All 17 members of the disarmament conference — Western, Communist and neutrals alike — today issued a call for further arms control measures.

The message marked the second anniversary of the signing in Moscow of the limited nuclear test ban treaty.

It was read out at the start of today's session by chief U.S. Negotiator William C. Foster on behalf of the entire conference.

Foster and Russian negotiator Senyon K. Tsarapkin agreed on the text of the message yesterday. It was then approved by the other participants.

Military Building Compromise Set

WASHINGTON (AP) — A $1.7 billion military construction authorization bill was sent by Congress to the White House today.

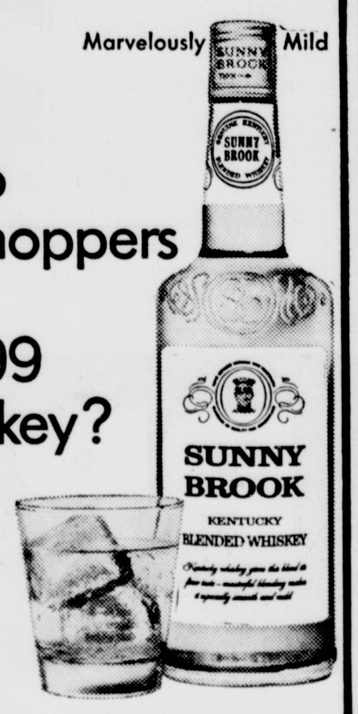

The Senate passed a compromise bill aimed at giving Congress a stronger hand in blocking future shutdowns of military installations. The measure was passed by the House yesterday.

The compromise, worked out by Senate and House conferees, is not as strong as a bill approved by the House earlier. The Senate refused to accept a House provision that would have given either the House or Senate a veto over cutbacks.

Price Of Gold Jumps In London

LONDON (AP) — The dollar price of gold jumped 1.875 cents an ounce on the bullion exchange today to $35.19125 — the highest since November 1961.

The official price of gold is $35 an ounce.

The pound again came under pressure on the monetary exchange. At the opening the price for immediate delivery slumped one-eighth of a cent from last Wednesday night's closing $2.79-32 to $2.79 1/32.

A few buying orders came in then and shortly before noon the price rose 1/32 of a cent.

Dealers said the forward market in pounds — pounds being bought for future delivery — was particularly depressed with an almost complete lack of buyers. Finally the Bank of England stepped in on the buying side and the forward market improved slightly.

Gold Bucks Trend Of Stocks Drop

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed lower today with gold-mining issues and selected stocks bucking the trend. Tradingwas fairly active.

The gold shares advanced in the wake of a sharp rise in price for gold in the London bullion market.

American South African Investment was up more than 2, Homestake and Dome Mines more than a point each.

Aerospace issues weakened. Boeing and Douglas Aircraft were down between 1 and 2.

Du Pont declined about a point. IBM lost 2.

Volume for the day was estimated at 5 million shares compared with 4.82 million yesterday.

Here was the picture near the close:

Gold shares made substantial gains in reflection of the leap in the price of gold on the London Bullion Exchange. The rest of the market, after holding fairly even during the morning, faded to the downside with most changes narrow.

Among the golds, American South Ffrican Investment surged 3 points and Dome Mines well over a point, making new highs. Campbell Red Lake was up about a point, Homestake more than a point and McIntyre-Porcupine a fraction.

Some aerospace issues took sharp losses. Boeing and Douglas Aircraft slipped about a point and a half each.

Steels, after trading about unchanged, showed fractional losses. U.S. Steel, Bethlehem and Republic were on the downside.

Ford was steady while General Motors lost a fraction and Chrysler eased.

IBM lost about 2 and Du Pont around a point.

Johnson & Johnson spurted 5 points and Storer Broadcasting more than 2. Gains of a point or so were made by Northwest Airlines, Harshaw Chemical, Gimbel, General Aniline, Foxboro, Endicott Johnson, Hudson Bay, U.S. Smelting, Control Data and International Nickel.

Prices were higher in moderate trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Corporate bonds prices were mixed. U.S. Treasury bonds sagged in reaction to the advance in the price of gold in London.

Religious Book, Supply Store Will Open In San Rafael

A new business, Marin Religious Book and Supply Store, will open at 1563 Fourth Street, San Rafael, on Monday.

All Protestant books, records, sheet music, Sunday school supplies and religious art will be sold, and proprietor James A. Reno of San Rafael believes it will be the only store in Marin with a complete supply of this material. He and his wife Dorothy will conduct the business together. The store will be open Mondays through Saturdays from 9:30 to 5:30 p.m.

Reno has been a San Rafael resident since 1936. He was in the ministry for 10 years and also has been in the insurance business.

Haran Young

GREGORY HARAN JR. of San Rafael has been elected president of the Men's and Boys' Apparel Club of California. He is Bay Area representative for Champion Slacks Manufacturing Co. of New York.

ERNEST J. YOUNG of Novato has been elected vice president of the San Francisco Convention and Visiters Bureau. He is vice president of Bank of America's business relationship department.

CHRIS CHRISTENSEN of Corte Madera has been appointed district manager of Farmers Insurance Group for Southern Marin. He spent six years with the company in Fresno.

SHAMROCK MATERIALS, INC., San Rafael, has announced that it will be open to sell sacked "dry-mix" on Saturdays, and will make Saturday deliveries of "ready-mixed" concrete.

RETURNED to the counter, shelves and racks at the Marcus Shop, San Rafael, is Robert Ingram — back from six months training at Ford Ord, to the relief of Warren Marcus, whose prospects for a summer vacation seemed dimmed by talk of calling up the reserves for Viet Nam.

TWO MARIN FAMILIES have given up living here to buy a town all their own in Oregon.

Edward and Sylvia Maharg of Novato and their friends Forrest and Joanne Mow of Santa Venetia are now in the process of closing out their affairs in the county and moving to Pinehurst, located about midway between Medford and Klamath Falls on U.S. Highway 66.

They now have title and the keys to the city, together with locks, stocks, village inn, log lodge, cabins, gas station and 40 acres of ground.

There is also a main street and one street light.

Principal source of income at the beginning will be the gas station and Pinehurst Inn, which they expect to open in about a month as a steakhouse. The 12-room lodge and cabins need a lot of work, but neither family is overly concerned.

MOW WAS a draftsman in the Marin County Assessor's Office and knows about planning. Maharg was formerly assistant manager of the Safeway Store in San Rafael and knows how to get things done. Spouses Joanne and Sylvia respectively were previously a bookkeeper and a grocery cashier as well as housewives. Eventually they expect to restore the town to its former glory and have a complete resort for fishermen, hunters and vacationers.

In its better days, Pinehurst was a historical old stopover on the stage route from Medford to Klamath Falls. For the past 20 years it has been owned and occupied by one couple, now retiring and leaving for good.

First official act of the Mahargs and Mows will be to adjust the census figures of Pinehurst, which is on the regular Oregon road map. Between the two families, they are changing the two records from "Population—2" to "Population—8."

West German camera makers offer a variety of over 160 different cameras, with more than 700 different photographic lenses.

THE WAY TO LIFE

Census Bureau Finds Formula For Affluence

WASHINGTON (UPI) — If riches rubbed off, the U. S. Census Bureau would have a sure-fire formula for affluence.

First, buy a plush resort in mounainous Hinsdale County, Colo., 200 miles southwest of Denver.

Then, plan to commute from a home in executive - laden Stamford, Conn., 55 minutes from New York.

But by all means stay out of Tunica County, Miss., or Laredo, Tex., while you're en route.

According to the Census Bureau, Hinsdale County and Stamford are the richest places in the United States on the basis of per capita and median family income figures.

Tunica County, a largely Negro cotton - growing area 30 miles south of Memphis, and Laredo, a centuries - old city across the Rio Grande from Mexico, are the poorest.

But what makes an area rich or poor?

Take Hinsdale County. When told that the census bureau ranked the county No. 1 with a $3,541 per capita income in 1959 ($14,164 for a four-person family), Mrs. Max Hersinger, wife of the sheriff in Lake City, the county seat and only town, said:

"That's news to me. I thought it was about the poorest."

She said the county, which covers 1,057 square miles, only has about 200 residents, and Lake City (pop. 106) "closes down in the winter." Most of the land (78.6 per cent) is national forest.

But it has a number of obviously valuable assets — the scenic grandeur of Mt. Uncompahgre, highest peak in Colorado, and crystal clear San Cristobal Lake.

Known for its hunting and fishing, the county has a number of plush resorts, mostly owned by Texans, Mrs. Hersinger said.

Has Chris Flipped Lid—Or Are 49ers That Good?

MORAGA (AP) — In years past, roof doctors would have rushed to Moraga upon hearing remarks made recently by head coach Jack Christiansen of the San Francisco 49ers.

"We have no problem areas," Christiansen has said at the 49er training camp at St. Mary's College. "We're more optimistic than ever this year."

It wasn't too long ago that psychotherapists with a rudimentary knowledge of Freud and football would have looked upon such cheery declarations by a head coach as symptoms of an abnormal personality reversal.

And considering that the 49ers finished 1964 seventh and last in the Western Conference of the National Football League with a 4-10 record, one could be excused for suspecting that Christiansen has flipped his cleats.

But this new era has spawned a new breed of fairly forthright professional coaches. The 36-year-old Christiansen fits the description of the modern mentor who's placed his neatly folded crying towel in the attic.

Besides, he's got reasons for buoyancy.

The 49ers last year lost eight key players for almost the entire season because of injuries, mainly to knees. Included in the casualties were the squad's leading running backs, J. D. Smith and Don Lisbon.

"We've got all the running backs we need," says Christiansen, whose top rusher last year gained only 271 yards all season.

Added to healthy Smith and Lisbon is John David Crow, the 10th leading NFL rusher in 1964 for the St. Louis Cardinals, who was acquired in a trade.

There's also Ken Willard, the No. 1 draft choice who'll report late because of All Star Game duty in Chicago. And a host of others.

"Last year we started without Charley Krueger and Dan Colchco," continues Christiansen, turning to his defensive line. "Last year we had only one defense installed by this time. This year, we've got four or five defenses in."

No rookie or newcomer, except for Crow, can crack the starting offensive or defensive squads, according to Christiansen. In fact, the coach expects only four to six rookies to make the club. There are five 49er rookies alone who played for the College All Stars, which bodes ill for the rookies left behind in Moraga.

Included in Christiansen's bright survey for 1965 is the offensive line, a target of criticism last season when 49er quarterbacks frequently got dumped.

"Lots of things have been written that we were having problems with our offensive line," answers Christiansen. "But we think our offensive line is good.

"Of course, you'd like an offensive lineman to block out a 290-pound defensive tackle and then lead a halfback downfield."

Christiansen hardly will admit this year that he doesn't have a whole bench full of behemoths who can do just that every play.

Despite this plethora of experienced talent, Christiansen isn't predicting a conference title for the 49ers. But he thinks they should surprise Baltimore, Green Bay and Detroit, the teams he rates highest in the west.

WOO! WHAT A RIOT IN THE 'GARDEN'

This is the aftermath of a wild riot last night in Madison Square Garden in New York after fans protested the split decision verdict which gave Flash Elorde of Manila a win over New York fighter Frankie Naravaez. The rioting lasted for 25 minutes after the decision was announced in the 10-round lightweight bout. Police used fire hoses to stop the fans from tossing chairs at the ring and tearing out railings. Wonderful Juan Gets Magic '100'

By FRED DOWN
UPI Sports Writer

Juan Marichal, the somber fireballing star of the San Francisco Giants who thrusts his left foot into the eyes of batters before he pitches, is aiming almost as high as he kicks.

Already a $70,000-a-year star, the 27-year-old Marichal is keeping the Giants in the National League pennant scramble with an amazing record featured by:

A 1.65 earned run average that is one percentage point better than the N.L. lively ball record of 1.66 set by Carl Hubbell in 1933.

A 100-47 lifetime won-lost record giving him a .680 percentage that is the highest of any N.L. pitcher who ever has won 100 games.

A current 17-8 mark, embellished with 18 complete games, eight shutouts and 164 strikeouts, that puts him within easy reach of his third straight 20-victory season.

Marichal wasn't really at his best last night but even an 80-per-cent effective Marichal is a mighty fine pitcher — as he proved in a 4-3, 10-inning triumph over the Cincinnati Reds. The 5-foot-11, 190-pound righty allowed 12 hits and three walks but struck out 14 batters and shut out the Reds for the last seven innings.

The victory enabled the fourth place Giants to move to within three games of the first-place Los Angeles Dodgers, who split their twilight doubleheader with the Milwaukee Braves. The Reds trail the Dodgers by two games and the Braves are 2½ games behind the league leaders.

The Giants will try to muddle up things a bit more when they face Cincinnati in a rematch tonight with Ron Herbel and Joe Nuxhall (8-3) scheduled Joe Nuxhall (8-3) scheduled to go for the Reds in a battle of right-handed curveballers.

A crowd of 16,370 last night saw Marichal up to his neck in hot water through most of the contest. It took him 155 pitches to stagger through to the win.

Nonetheless, Marichal was far stronger at the end than at the beginning. Cincinnati mauled him for its three runs in the third. The Reds never got another man home.

After Jim Hart doubled and Hal Lanier singled him home in the top of the 10th, Marichal polished off the heart of the feared Redleg attack in especially impressive fashion.

Gordy Coleman was wiped out on one pitch, Deron Johnson in five, and Frank Robinson lasted four pitches before he took a called third strike.

Cincinnati pilot Dick Sisler startled everyone by going with Jim O'Toole, the disappointing lefty who had not started for a month.

He pitched well although Willie McCovey and Dick Bertell singled and Lanier tripled two runs home in the second.

The Reds scored all their runs off Marichal in the third inning on Leo Cardenas' single, a walk to Tommy Harper, Pete Rose's double and singles by Vada Pinson and Gordie Coleman. The Giants scored a run that tied the score at 3-3 on consecutive singles by Willie McCovey in the fifth inning and Marichal held the Reds scoreless the rest of the way until San Francisco broke through with the winning tally, Hart's double and Hal Lanier's single in the 10th.

O'Toole gave way to Teddy Davidson in the eighth and the little reliever took the defeat when Hart and Lanier did their stuff.

The Giants wound up with 11 hits and Mays, Hart, McCovey, Cap Peterson and Lanier each had two of them.

A Killer Whale Up Seattle Way

When you come right down to it, the killer whale leaves something to be desired as a household pet. I mean, you can't pet it, take it for a walk in the park, ride it, eat it, race it or bet on it. You can't let it sleep at the foot of the bed or go fetch a stick you've just thrown into a field.

It's not house-broken, you can't enter it for a best-in-show. You can't just go down and buy it a can of kibbledliver or feed it the scraps from the table. If it gets hungry enough, it eats you. You pacify it with tons of salmon.

It comes with a terrible reputation. It is supposed to have attacked boats, is popularly supposed to have the least discriminating diet of any of God's creatures, and to be personally responsible for one-half to two-thirds of the wooden legs in the old whaling ports of the 1800s.

IT IS A cannibal of the deep in that it eats its own kind—and conspires with the enemy to betray its own kind in return for a few scraps of whale meat. The tongue of the great gray whale is a highly-prized delicacy, and crafty killer whales have been known to herd pods of bigger whales into shallow waters and right under the harpoons of the whaling fleets and then loiter around the backs of the ships for their reward — fresh-cut whale tongue. It is rapacious, omniverous, a thorough-going bad lot. Its mere appearance in Puget Sound has been known to empty that body of water of its salmon population overnight. It eats seals for appetizers.

THE CITY of Seattle has a killer whale all its own, just berthed at the waterfront the other day. Technically, this seagoing Jack the Ripper is the property of an adventurer named "Ted" Griffin. Ted was foraging around Namu, B.C., the other month when he stumbled across what looked like a real bargain—a real, live, near-new killer whale, in first class condition, with all accessories and priced to sell. $8,000. Some fishermen had inadvertently trapped it.

Now, I can just imagine phoning home to the little woman some night and saying, "Guess what I just bought, honey? A killer whale! And only eight grand!" The next scene would find her smelling your breath or calling the State Hospital and telling them to bring a net. Either that or inquiring sweetly, "What's the matter, wasn't the Brooklyn Bridge available?"

HISTORY DOESN'T record the reaction of Mrs. Ted Griffin, if any, but the city of Seattle went into a frenzy. I happened to be up there the time the great whale tow was underway, and my friend and fellow journalist, Emmett Watson, phoned to say he was flying up to the scene of the great capture. "Wouldn't you like to come up and talk to the whale?" he wondered. "Are you crazy?" I asked him. "I can't even speak Spanish. Besides, what would we talk about—the Giants?"

KILLER WHALES are supposed to be the most intelligent form of marine life. Records of them communicating reports of danger to the main herd miles away have been made. Proof of the assertion is that they once were land animals, and fable has it they fled back to the sea as soon as they saw man coming or the first road being built. The myth holds that the chief whale led the march to the sea with the advice, "You think the dinosaur is dangerous, wait till you get a load of the automobile."

A Free-the-Whale movement never got, so to speak, off the ground, although nobody thought to call it a Communist plot. The Navy, which thinks it can use cetaceans (whales, dolphins) for submarine detection once it can establish communication with them, moved to enlist the whale before the Russians got one of their own. At least, we're not plagued with a whale gap.

ANYWAY, SEATTLE now has a killer whale of its very own. There has been a movement afoot to elect him lieutenant governor in place of the usual football coach. Its brain is certifiably larger than the average politician's, even if its waistline isn't.

The capture gives Seattle an enormous lead in municipal showpieces, sure to arouse envy in other coast cities.

Central Marin Colts Lose Utah Tourney Opener, 6-0

I-J- Special Report

PROVO, Utah — Central Marin's All-Star team tasted bitter defeat yesterday in the opening round of the Regional Colt League tournament here but hoped to bounce back today.

Marin lost 6-0 to Cedar City, Utah, but the Bay Area's other entry, Santa Clara, came out on the winning side, whipping host Provo's All-Stars 6-1.

The Marin youngsters will go against Provo in the loser's bracket tonight at 6 o'clock in this double elimination tournament. Marin now must win tonight and take both ends of a doubleheader tomorrow to win the championship.

Catcher Doug Gray got two of Marin's five hits, all singles. Third baseman Keith Valk, first sacker John Kowski and pitcher Gerry Handlos got the other three safeties.

Marin passed up three good chances to break the scoring column, leaving two runners on base in the second and third innings and three stranded in the fourth.

Handlos, the starter, went three innings and gave up four hits and three runs. Jim Garrett went the next two and also gave up four hits and three runs, the big hit off him being a bases loaded triple in the fifth inning.

Mike Terry finished up for Marin pitching the bottom of the sixth. He used only eight pitches to get the side out in order.

It's Novato Vs. Ukiah In Li'l Loop

Novato's Little League All-Stars begin play tomorrow in the Section 2 tournament in West Sacramento, part of national competition that finally comes to head in the Little League World Series.

To make it to the nationals, teams have to sweep through district, sectional, divisional and regional games, quite rough road since one loss eliminates a team.

Novato, winner of the Marin County district tourney, will face South Ukiah in tomorrow's opening round at 6:15. If Novato wins, it will go against the winners of the Grant (Sacramento) vs. East Vallejo game. That championshop game would be played Saturday at 5 p.m. All games are being played at West Sacramento Little League Field.

It will be a repeat performance for both Novato and South Ukiah, winners of the 1964 district tourneys. Last year Novato blanked South Ukiah 4-0 in eight innings and then lost to Northgate 1-0 in the sectional tourney held in Concord. Returnees from that 1964 Novato team are pitchers Stan Ericksen and Randy Foster and catcher Jack Burnham.

With that experienced battery, Novato coach Sheridan Moats feels his boys have a good chance in the sectional tourney. Either Foster, Steve Tieche, John Kidder or Tom Nelson will pitch the opening game, saving big Ericksen for the possible championship battle Saturday.

In the district tourney, Novato scored a total of 29 runs on 33 hits, while the superb pitching staff gave up only four runs.

TREEMEN FELLED

Big Upset Opens Softball Tourney

Lucky 7 Golf of Sonoma County, rated by most experts as the weakest of the six team in the sixth annual San Anselmo Invitational Softball Tournament, upset heralded Sohner Tree Service of San Anselmo, 4-0, in the tourney opener at Memorial Park last night.

The game was played in 55 minutes before a large crowd.

Next tourney action is slated tomorrow at 6:30 p.m. when Deans of Marin battles Five-Star Homes of Santa Rosa. Hamilton Field and Lucky 7 collide Saturday evening while Burbank Dairy makes its tourney debut in Sunday's triple-header.

Don Nystrom, a fast-balling righthander who lost a 6-2 verdict to the Treemen in the Santa Rosa "A" League Tuesday night, spaced seven hits in collecting the victory last night.

The San Anselmo team, recent winner of the district play-offs in Santa Rosa and currently representative for Marin, Sonoma and Mendocino counties in the State Tournament in Hayward, could do no right last night.

The usually-reliable Sohner defense made three errors in the third inning to give the visitors a pair of runs.

Solo home runs down the right field line by Dave Schubert and Jack Bond in the fourth and fifth innings accounted for the winners' other two runs.

"We just plain stunk," was Sohner manager Ron Jerome's comment following the team's second loss in the last 13 games.

Sohner had won a doubleheader from Lucky 7 and the Windsor Merchants Tuesday in Santa Rosa.

Indian Valley Wins Softball Game 10-5

The Indian Valley Lumber softball team downed Marin Hills 10-5 Tuesday with five runs in the seventh inning. Jack Chapman led the hitting with tnree safeties and Mike Cicero turned in a sparkling defensive performance at third base as I. V. won its third game without a loss.

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN IS A WRECK AFTER 'WORST' RIOT

By MURRAY ROSE

NEW YORK (AP) — Parts of Madison Square Garden looked like a disaster area early today following what old-timers called the worst riot in the 40-year history of the famed sports arena. Surprisingly, in view of the damage and heavy objects thrown, only a few people were hurt in the 25-minute riot.

It all stemmed from a controversial split decision awarded to world junior lightweight champion Flash Elorde of the Philippines over 11-5 favored Frankie Narvaez, a Puerto Rican-born New Yorker, in a non-title 10-rounder last night.

Police said five persons, including two policemen and a fireman, were taken to St. Clare's Hospital. They said the fireman was hit on the mouth by a brick, one policeman was struck on the head by a fire hose nozzle, and the other hit in the back of his neck by a chair.

Five New Yorkers, including the alleged brick thrower, were arrested and booked on malicious mischief, a misdemeanor. One of the five — Jesus Valez, the alleged brick tosser — also were booked for felonious assault and another on a charge of endangering public health for allegedly attempting to throw a fire extinguisher into the crowd.

Cries of "robbery" and "thieves" from irate Narvaez backers in the crowd of 6,918 rang out after it was announced two officials had voted for Elorde five rounds to four with one even, giving the Filipino underdog the decision. The other official voted for Narvaez, 7-2 with one even.

The Associated Press scorecard had it even, five rounds for each, after a lively, bloody fight in which no knockdowns were scored. A ringside poll showed a 13-9 edge for Narvaez with four writers calling it even. It was a difficult fight to score because of the contrasting styles of the right-handed, 24-year-old Narvaez and the left-handed, 30-year-old champion.

The riot went off like a delayed bomb explosion. When the fighters left the ring for their dressing rooms, some of the fans started throwing paper cups, coins, cigar butts and other light objects. This is not unusual following a disputed decision.

Then the whisky bottles started flying and smashing and part of the crowd went berserk.

Five-chair sections were tossed like matchsticks from the mezzanine and side arenas onto the ring floor. Fire axes and fire extinguishers, light bulbs, sections of metal railings, wooden slats were heaved into the ringside sections.

Windows and telephone booths were smashed. The rioting spectators fought with the special police, then laughed, jeered and defied them from a distance. They picked up the organ in the side lodge and pitched it five feet to the floor below.

At this stage the special policemen — 60 of them and 20 more than normal according to a Garden spokesman — seemed helpless to quell the rioters.

The rioting went on for about 25 minutes inside the arena and then spread to the lobby, the streets, and the subway below.

City police and firemen quelled the riot outside. Inside, the special police finally subdued the last holdouts with a fire hose in a side arena corridor.

When it was all over, parts of the arena looked like a hurricane had swept through it. Whole sections had their chairs turned over or smashed.

Asked for an estimate of the damage, John F. X. Condon, the Garden's boxing publicity director, said, "Offhand, it looks like more than $10,000."

Elorde, who had lost his only previous New York fight nine years ago, had been a 7-5 favorite up to the noon weigh-in. Although it took Narvaez three trips to the scale to make the agreed upon 136 pounds, the odds favoring him soared to 11-5 at fight-time. Elorde weighed 135½.

The cut-prone Filipino was nicked over the corner of his right eye in the fifth round but Narvaez suffered a deep, inch-long cut over his right eye in the seventh round.

The left-handed invader, off slowly, rallied in the last five rounds to gain the verdict, his fifth straight. He now expects to meet world lightweight champion Ismael Lagun of Panama in a 15-rounder for the latter's title in Manila in November or December.

The fighters were not aware of the rioting going on outside their dressing rooms until the worst was over.

It turned out they only fought a preliminary bout.

College All-Stars Have Weapons To Upset Mighty Cleveland '11'

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

CHICAGO (AP) — The weapons that brought Head Coach Otto Graham's All-Stars upset victories over National Football League champions in 1958 and 1963 again are ready in his arsenal for tomorrow night's clash with the Cleveland Browns.

They are:

1. A scrambling quarterback. Graham has named scurrying Roger Staubach, a Navy ensign and 1963 Heisman Trophy winner, as his starting quarterback.

2. A breakaway pass-catcher That would be sprinter Bob Hayes, the world's fastest human, of Florida A&M.

3. A consistent placekicker. Yale's Chuck Mercein fits the bill. He set Ivy League records last year by booting 19 of 22 extra points and five of nine field goals — three in one game, including a pair from 48 to 46 yards.

The collegians have won only three of the last 15 games with the NFL champions and trail in the over-all series sponsored by Chicago Tribune Charities Inc., with nine victories to 20 for the pros. Two games were tied.

The Browns are a solid 14½ point favorite tomorrow night.

Since Graham, the former all-time quarterback of the Browns, became head All-Star coach in 1958, his teams have won twice.

In 1958 they defeated the Detroit Lions 35-19 and in 1963, the All-Stars surprised the Green Bay Packers 20-17.

Along with Staubach in the starting backfield, Graham has named halfback Pat Donnelly of Navy, fullback Ken Willard of North Carolina and Hayes, who can run the 100 yards in 9.1.

The starting defensive horde averages nearly 250 pounds through the line. Included is All-America linebacker Dick Butkus of Illinois, co-captain of the squad with Staubach.

Other All-Star quarterbacks are Notre Dame's John Huarte, the 1964 Heisman Trophy winner, who again will have his Irish teammate, end Jack Snow, as a potential target, California's Craig Morton and Michigan's Bob Timberlake.

As for Staubach being the starter, Graham admits he isn't a better passer than Huarte, Timberlake or Morton.

"But he's a better runner and that makes him more of a threat," says Graham.

The All-Stars held light drills under the lights at Soldier Field last night and were pronounced ready.

Ex-Coach Awarded $175,000

SEATTLE (AP) — Basketball coach John Grayson was awarded $175,000 by a superior court jury last night after nine hours of deliberation in his libel suit against the Curtis Publishing Co.

The 49-year-old former University of Washington coach had asked for $300,000, claiming his career was ruined by a Jan. 5, 1963 Saturday Evening Post article entitled "Basketball Bullies."

"I hope to return to coaching now," Grayson said after the verdict in the 13-day-long trial was read shortly before midnight. "That's my life's work."

"This clears the record — not only of my husband, but of the team and of the school," said his wife, Maxine.

There was no comment from defense counsel, except to ask for a poll of the jury of six men and six women. Two jurors — one man and one woman—said they voted "no."

In the article, former basketball referee Al Lightner of Salem, Ore., said he was struck by spectators after Grayson incited the crowd by protesting his decisions in a UCLA-Washington game here March 2, 1962.

Grayson denied inciting any crowd to violence. His $10,000-a-year coaching contract was not renewed in 1963 and Grayson claimed he was unable to get work elsewhere.

Jim Owens, Washington athletic director, said the article did not influence his decision in letting the contract lapse. He said Grayson was offered another job in the department, at a lower salary, but refused it.

Defense counsel contended the article, written by a free-lance writer as told by Lightner, was true. They told the jury it was a fair comment and criticism, and was in the public interest.

THE NATIONAL LEAGUE

Braves, L. A. Split

By DICK COUCH

Bobby Bragan can't sell National League umpires on his spitball theory but he may have them swinging at his roundhouse curve.

The Milwaukee manager helped the men in blue decide that they hadn't seen what they thought they'd seen in the second inning of last night's doubleheader opener against league-leading Los Angeles.

Bragan's persuasive power paid off in a 4-3 victory for the Braves and Walt Alston didn't stop seething until his Dodgers had salvaged the nightcap 3-2 and proted their first-place foothold.

The Los Angeles pilot lodged a protest — later withdrawn — after Bragan and the umpires contributed to a zany play during Milwaukee's decisive three-run second-inning rally in the first game.

Gene Oliver's homer had tied the score 2-2 and the Braves had runners on first and third with one out when pitcher Hank Fischer bounced to second baseman Jim Lefebvre.

Lefebvre swiped at Woody Woodward as the Braves runner passed him on the basepath, then threw wildly to first as Frank Bolling scored the go-ahead run. Both first base umpire Ken Burkhart and second base umpire Lee Weyer appeared to have signaled Woodward out on the play.

Bragan rushed onto the field to dispute the call and, after a huddle with all four umpires, Woodward was declared safe at second — and awarded third base on the overthrow. He scored the deciding run a moment later on Felipe Alou's infield out.

Woodward explained between games that Weyer had given the out sign at second because he assumed Burkhart already had made the same call. "Then they decided to have a conference and descovered neither one had called me out."

Alston, convinced at the time that Woodward had been called out and had left the field, protested the game on the premise that Bragan's intervention had caused the umpires to reverse their decision.

However, after the Dodgers took the nightcap, breaking a 2-2 tie in the eighth on Lou Johnson's run-scoring triple, Alston said he was satisfied with the umpires' explanation of the disputed play and would not file a protest.

Second-place Cincinnati dropped a 4-3, 10-inning verdict to San Francisco and fell two games behind the Dodgers while Pittsburgh blanked New York 3-0, St. Louis rocked Houston 9-4 and Philadelphia drubbed Chicago 7-2 in other N. L. games.

Claude Osteen checked the Braves on four hits until the ninth, when he needed relief help from Bob Miller, in the Dodgers' second-game victory, which kept them 2½ games ahead of third-place Milwaukee.

Hank Aaron homered in each game for the Braves before a crowd of 19,920 — Milwaukee's largest turnout since opening day.

Andre Rodgers drove in two runs with a homer and squeeze bunt as the Pirates shut out the Mets for the second straight day.

Unsung Seminole Is Raiders Star

SANTA ROSA (AP) — Professional football scouts have been wheeling and dealing for Florida State's torrid passing combination of Tensi to Biletnikoff and have almost lost linebacker Dick Hermann in the shuffle.

Quarterback Steve Tensi was drafted fourth by the San Diego Chargers of the American Football League. End Fred Biletnikoff was the No. 2 draft choice of the Oakland Raiders.

Both were signed on national television after they teamed for four touchdowns in demolishing Oklahoma 36-19 in the last Gator Bowl. Their undrafted teammate, Hermann, signed the same day with the Raiders well out of camera range.

But the 6-foot-1 Hermann has won a re-deal. The 215-pounder stands an excellent chance to make the AFL squad off his performances in the Santa Rosa training camp, although he's still a mite hazy about what he's supposed to do on every play.

"Right now, I'm just confused," admits Hermann. "I don't think there's a rookie out there who isn't.

"If I knew what I was supposed to do, I could do a good job. I've got good speed, enough to keep up with the great percentage of receivers.

"But out there, you've really got to use your head."

Hermann played offensive guard and linebacker at Florida State. He holds almost all school records for tackles made and once brought down 18 enemy runners in a single game without assistance.

But this is different. A professional linebacker must learn dozens of different alternatives contained in numerous defenses. He rushes passers and covers receivers from the basic pro 4-3 defense.

Hermann played in a 5-2 defense for the Seminoles and on pass plays all he did was "drop back 10 yards, set up, and start looking for receivers."

CLEVELAND (UPI) — Jim Brown of the Cleveland Browns holds the all - time National Football League career rushing mark with 10,768 yards in 2,070 carries.

Early Coastal Deer Season Gets Underway Saturday

By JERRY HARRELL

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The shooting starts at dawn Saturday in California's early coastal deer season.

The State Fish and Game Department is predicting a season equal to the good 1964 outing, with hunting slightly off north of the San Francisco Bay, but improved to the south.

Hot weather, high fire danger and a shortage of public land to hunt will plague the unattached hunter this year as in the past.

The season—the earliest regular deer hunting season in the nation, will continue for six weeks, through the opening weekend of the late or inland season, Sept. 18-19.

The coastal limit is two buck, forked horn or better. Hunters need $2 deer tags in addition to the basic $4 hunting license.

Shooting hours are one - half hour before sunrise to one-half hour after sunset.

The Fish and Game Department's field men say the hunting will be down slightly in the traditionally good northern counties of Humboldt, Mendocino, Lake and Sonoma.

Poor buck carryover from last year's record or near record kills, coupled with washed - out access roads from the winter floods, will create problems.

Some big bucks have been reported in the portion of Humboldt County that's open, however Mendocino County had poor fawn survival in 1963, and generally poor animal survival in last year's floods. The kill probably will be down from the 4,681 bucks taken a year ago.

Monterey County, traditionally the No. 2 county behind Mendocino for coastal buck hunting, is reported set for a top season. survival was good from the 1962 and 1963 fawn crops and the forage is good and the deer are reported healthy.

The other south coastal counties similarly report good conditions and prospects.

Last year, a pretty good coastal season, produced a total bag of 21,440 bucks in the 17 counties and portions of 16 others that comprise the early season area.

Tradition and folklore play a large part in the setting of a deer season in the heat of summer instead of the fall.

A lingering belief that coastal deer mate early in the fall is one contributor, since most hunters prefer deer taken before the rut. Actually, some inland season areas have herds that breed earlier than the coastal blacktails, which generally go into the rut in October and November.

But there are some other factors.

Jack Hiehle, game manager for the department, notes that fire danger generally is lower in August than September and October.

And separate early and late seasons tend to thin out the hunting pressure and give the state's hunters more opportunity with a total of 13 weeks in the two seasons.

But it's still hard, hot hunting in the coastal hills in August.

One coastal deer hunter told of encountering another atop a brushy mountain and asking if he'd had any luck.

The other replied, "No, thank heavens."

The FISHIN' FOOL

By RALPH STEVENS
I-J Fish and Game Writer

Statisticians Say July Was Very Poor Month For Catching Salmon

STEVENS

According to the statisticians, July July was the poorest month we have had for many moons for the catching of salmon. Sid McMullin of Caruso's Sausalito spot said its been a case of very few fish per boat and only fractional per rod. Such salmon as are boated, however, are "smokers." Speaking of large fish, the old-timers have to bow to a little lady of 14 years, Stephanie Withrow, a visitor from Colorado. Stephanie hooked, played and landed a nice 40-pound salmon from the deck of the good ship "Jennie C." She caught the lunker off Slide Ranch.

From Lee Anderson's bait emporium in Oakland, I gathered that the boat "Hazel B" was high boat with 4 salmon to 20 pounds taken in the Slide Ranch area on Sunday. And that just about wraps up the information anent salmon.

THE WAYS OF the striped bass are hard to define. Why action should be more or less confined to only two spots is a moot question, but 'tis so. In the Delta area a late run has been under way for the past couple of weeks. In the bay—or cove—at Rio Vista, the local anglers have been cleaning up. I mention "locals" for the reason that it seems that the majority of limit catches are made by the rather small group of lads familiar with the location and the modus operandi.

Speaking to a Mrs. Patrick, I asked about the catfish yield. She reported some very fine catches of cats have been coming in for several weeks by anglers who listened to her or Louie's advice.

THE SECOND area being patronized by stripers is off the South Tower of the G.G. Bridge. Not only have there been oodles of bas taken by using live bait in that area, the bass—like the salmon — are large ones. For example: A trio of east bay experts fished the area on Sunday. In exactly 90 minutes, Johnny Tank, Gil Montero and Doug Floyd limited out with stripers weighing from 18 to 28 pounds. Doris Marshall of Lee Anderson's in Oakland, who made the report, also mentioned that the "Sunfish," on Monday, docked with 160 assorted rockfish and 8 stripers to 26 pounds. The "Duke No. 2," with three rods working, boated three limits to 21 pounds in the same area. I should mention that the "Sunfish" worked the Bonito Cove for the rockfish.

Ray Newton of the San Leandro Recreation Department told me he had word of some fairly fast bass fishing near the San Mateo Bridge.

OTHER THAN THE two areas mentioned above for striped bass the other regions, Alcatraz, off China Camp and upstream to the Carquinez Bridge, have been strictly non-productive over the weekend just past, but sturgeon fishing out of the Dowrelio's Crockett Harbor continues unabated. More sturgeons are released because of being under legal size than have been taken home, but limit catches of legal size seems to prevail. Johnny Sivera and the "Lucky Days" boated legal limits and released 28. Of all places to find the armor-plated denizens was across the strait near the Light House.

Word from Lake Berryessa is discouraging. The entire lake seems to be in the doldrums. And that's it for today. Chow!

Parliament Concludes Action-Packed Session

LONDON (AP) — Britain's Labor government came to the end of its first session of Parliament today with a record of legislation astonishing to even its most zealous supporters.

With Prime Minister Harold Wilson's forces plagued by the smallest majority in this century, the House of Commons put through 65 separate measures before adjournment until Oct. 26. Some of the legislation represents minor social and economic revolutions in taxation, race relations, capital punishment and other fields.

For drama and accomplishment, the session probably will go down in the history books.

Fifty-two of the successful bills were introduced by the government as part of its program, the rest by individual MP's. The total of 65 is two more than the number of bills passed by the last Parliament, when the Conservatives had a majority of about 100 votes.

The opposition accused Wilson of overloading Parliament's antiquated procedures with a program better suited to a voting cushion 10 times the size of his actual nominal majority of only three votes.

Wilson, anxious to make a record in office, shouldered the complaints aside.

The government's most difficult achievement — and the most wearing on the House — was the finance bill. This package of tax reforms was debated for 211 hours on 23 days. Most of the sittings lasting until long after midnight.

The Laborites lost only three times. This forced Wilson to accept a Conservative measure lowering capital gains taxes on mutual funds. Ironically, this had been suggested earlier by Labor's own economic advisers.

Other major platform pledges enacted were a new rent law, a boost in old-age pensions and a national severance pay scheme.

The monopoly laws were tightened, especially on newspapers.

A permanent commission of judges and lawyers was organized to codify Britain's ancient, complicated and often conflicting laws.

Initement to racial violence was made a crime, and racial conciliation boards were authorized.

The House of Commons also took the historic step of voting to abolish capital punishment for murder.

In 1948, immediately after World War II, the United States purchased goods valued at $86.6 million from the Soviet Union, an increase of $62.6 million over the import level in 1938.

Lake Berryessa Fire Controlled

NAPA (AP)—A fire that swept through 300 acres of brush and scrub oak on the east slope of Cedar Ridge was contained today and foresters said "all fire lines are holding."

More than 150 firefighters were on the line in the hills 15 miles east of St. Helena, near the southwest end of Lake Berryessa.

There was no wind this morning.

Cause of the fire was not known.

More than a dozen crews kept the fire from spreading into nearby timberland.

Arms, Men For Asia Keep Bay Busy

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — San Francisco bay, familiar to millions of G.I.s in the Korean War and World War II, once again is booming as a center of wartime activity.

The United States' increasing commitment in South Viet Nam has brought a bustle of activity to the military's chief West Coast shipping port. Sixty per cent of supplies destined for Viet Nam pass through — or over — the Golden Gate, a military spokesman said.

Lined along the Oakland Army Terminal's docks are rows of newly painted trucks, khaki-colored ambulances with red crosses on their sides, and boxes of medical supplies—bone splints, drugs and bandages.

Overhead a crane swings low, picks up a heavy tank, and lifts it—gun turret swinging slowly—into the hold of a freighter rusby because there is no time for repairs. Other cranes hoist such diverse items as building materials, Jeeps and bulletin boards into a tightly packed row of ships waiting alongside the pier.

Military officials are quick to point out that the terminal supplies all bases in the Far East, but much of the material obviously is destined for South Viet Nam.

The Military Sea Transport Service, which operates armed forces ships from port to port, said tonnage to the Far East from Oakland has more than doubled in the past six months.

At San Francisco Naval Shipyard, the hospital ship Repose — a Korean War veteran that was heavily shelled at Inchon— is being reactivated for duty off the coast of Viet Nam.

The Defense Supply Agency depot near the East Bay community of Concord reported a 100 per cent increase in shipments of ammunition and weapons to the Far East in the last year. Most probably goes to Viet Nam.

And at vast Travis Air Force Base, 30 miles northeast of San Francisco, authorities said a record number of men were passing through on the way to Clark Air Force Base in the Philippines, a major stopping-off place on the way to Viet Nam.

In addition, several hundred tons of cargo a day are currently moving out of Travis.

"Practically every airplane we've got is flying," a Travis spokesman said.

Brig. Gen. Raymond C. Conroy, commander of the Oakland Terminal, declined to talk about tonnages but said:

"We've really been put to the test here in the last few months."

Job Corps Aide Expects Worries

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The director of the antipoverty program's Job Corps believes that minor scandals and conflicts with local officials will probably continue.

"You're not going to get 10,000 to 12,000 boys" from poverty backgrounds into such a program without incident, Otis A. Singletary told a news conference yesterday. He said many of the problems were unexpected and "we're going to have to live with them for awhile."

But, Singletary added, firm steps are being taken to correct the difficulties and he thinks the Job Corps is getting underway.

Youth, 17, Driver Of Accident Car

Peter Noble, 17, of 41 Circle Road, San Rafael, was the driver of the car which went off Tocaloma Platform Bridge Road, one mile north of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard Tuesday, not Gary Peterson, 16, of 28 Circle Road, San Rafael, as was incorrectly reported yesterday in the Independent-Journal.

Peterson and Kellian Kyllo of 55 Ranch Road, San Rafael, were passengers in the Noble car.

Officer Quits Homestead Sewer Board

Gerald G. Weisbach, a director of the Homestead Valley Sanitary District for about two years, resigned from the post last night.

The resignation came because of the press of other activities and his business, board chairman Warren I. Jacobs reported. Directors will ask for recommendations from the Homestead Improvement Club for a replacement and expect to interview nominees at the next board meeting on Sept. 27.

Directors agreed at the adjourned meeting last night to change the regular meeting date from the fourth Wednesday to the fourth Monday of each month at 8:30 p.m. at Homestead School.

Water Service Being Sought

The Muir Beach Community Services District will again attempt to negotiate with the Marin Municipal Water District to gain water service, directors agreed last night.

Muir Beach directors Albert Vidart and Jack F. Harris were appointed as a committee to meet with water district officials.

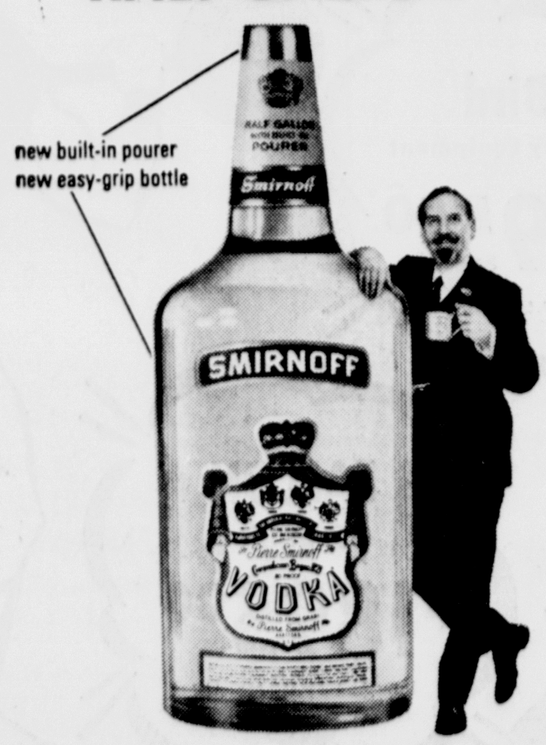

Harris, chairman of the Muir Beach district, reported that a new well which has been sunk within the district now is pumping water which is being tested for purity.

Directors agreed to change their regular meeting date from the first Wednesday of each month to 8 p.m. on the third Wednesday at the Muir Beach Tavern.

Officer's Look

The chief petty officer's CPO look is part of the wool revival for men's sportswear for fall. The CPO jacket is styled like a shirt and worn like one.

Sun Changes Color

Think twice before airing clothes in the sun, advises the National Institute of Drycleaning. If they are green, blue or white, they can change color. Many green and blue dyes in silk and wool are susceptible to sunlight and white garments may contain a fluorescent whitening dye which is destroyed by sunlight, causing the garments to yellow.

MEDICARE AND YOU

3 Types Of Payments

By JOHN TROAN
NEA Special Writer

(Fourth in a Series)

Three types of monthly payments are available under Social Security:

Retirement benefits. Survivors' benefits. Disability benefits.

To draw any of them, you must apply at a Social Security district office.

You must be at least 62 years old to get a retirement benefit. But you can never draw your full retirement benefit unless you wait until you are least 65 to start collecting it.

When you apply for your retirement benefit you should take along:

1. Your Social Security card, or some record on which your Social Security number appears.

2. Your income-tax "withholding statement" (Form W-2) for the previous year. (Or if you are self-employed, a copy of your last federal income-tax return).

3. Some proof of your age. The best proof of age is a birth certificate, or a baptismal certificate issued shortly after birth.

If you don't have either, you may use some other document to establish your age, such as a certified hospital birth record; a signed statement from the midwife or doctor who attended your birth; a marriage record showing your age when married; a child's birth certificate which happens to show your age; a family Bible; a military discharge paper; an immigration or naturalization record; a passport; a vaccination record; an old insurance policy; a certified union record; an employment record showing your age; a record from a foreign church or government; or a license, permit or voting record showing your age.

Generally, the older the document the better. And if you don't have any other satisfactory evidence of age, you may ask the U.S. Census Bureau to check its records for you. The fee: $4.

If you qualify for retirement benefits, your wife also may be eligible—provided she is at least 62.

Even if she's under 62, your wife may draw a retirement benefit provided you have in your care a child who is under 18 or is incapable of self-support due to a disability incurred before age 18. In such event, the child also would be eligible for monthly benefits (or disability) would be required.

Where a wife draws a retirement benefit on her own, her husband also may qualify—provided he is at least 62 and can prove he depends on her for at least half of his financial support.

You may apply for retirement benefits three months before reaching retirement age (to avoid delay of payments) or any time thereafter. But retirement checks can't be dated back more than 12 months.

In case of death, the widow may draw suvivors' benefits provided she is at least 60—or has in her care at least one child who is under 18 or was disabled before age 18.

To claim survivors' benefits, a widow must submit her husband's death certificate, his Social Security card or a record of his Social Security number, her marriage certificate, and proof of her age. Also, birth certificates of any children eligible to draw such payments.

Incidentally, an unmarried child aged 18 through 21 who is still in school may now qualify for retirement or survivors' benefits but the mother doesn't.

Survivors' benefits also may be drawn by the parent or widower of a deceased worker provided the individual is at least 62 and dependent on the worker for at least 50 per cent of financial support.

In event of death, a lump-sum benefit also is payable. This goes to the widow or widower—who must present a death certificate to claim it.

To draw disability benefits, the worker must establish total disability, which is expected to last at least 12 months or to result in death. If you're unable to apply at a Social Security office, the agency will send someone to take your application personally.

If you qualify, disability benefits would be payable also to your wife if she is at least 62 or is caring for a child under 18 or one disabled before 18. Benefits would be payable also to such children plus any child under 22 who is still in school.

NEXT: Hospital benefits under the basic Medicare plan.)

IMPORTANT DOCUMENTS

Here's a check list of important documents you should have on hand for Social Security purposes:

- ☐ Husband's Social Security card (or a record showing his Social Security number).
- ☐ Wife's Social Security card (or a record showing her number).
- ☐ Proof of husband's age.
- ☐ Proof of wife's age.
- ☐ Your marriage certificate.
- ☐ Copy of your latest income-tax "withholding statement" (Form W-2). Or, if you are self-employed, copy of your last income-tax return.
- ☐ Birth certificate of each child for whom a benefit is sought.
- ☐ Certified copy of adoption order (if child is adopted).
- ☐ Death certificate of worker who dies.
- ☐ Receipted funeral bill if somebody other than widow or widower claims lump-sum death benefit.
- ☐ Divorce papers (where applicable).

Also, if you should become so disabled that you can't work, it is a good idea to keep a list of doctors who have treated you as well as hospitals, clinics and other institutions where you have been treated.

A.F. Reports Second Launch

VANDENBERG AFB (UPI)—An Atlas F missile booster sent a simulated warhead down the western test range today, the second launching in the Air Force's re-entry vehicle test program in two days.

The firing was the ninth of the year in the advanced ballistic re-entry system (ABRES) program aimed at even more effective vehicles for an intercontinental ballistic missile deterrent.

Today's launch was the 67th firing of the year at this base.

First Oil Tanker Built By Germany

HOUSTON (UPI) — The first ship built specifically as a tanker for oil was the Gluckauf, which is German for "good luck." That was in the 1880's.

Since then, tankers have developed into a fleet of 3,200 vessels, some of which can carry a million barrels or more. That would be roughly 60 times the capacity of the Gluckauf.

Cranberries Dry

BOSTON (AP) — The long drought has caused serious damage to the cranberry crop of Cape Cod, the state says. About 100,000 barrels have been lost so far.

Library Gets Crime Collection

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The Michigan State University library says it has acquired a 1,400-volume collection on crime, torture and dueling from the library at the Castle of Nuremberg in Germany.

The books mainly are in Latin and German script and many have parchment bindings, said John Whitelaw, MSU special collections librarian.

Whitelaw said they are expected to be of special value to students in police administration and social science.

Freedom Democratic Party To Be Probed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department has begun a study to see if the Mississippi Freedom Democratic Party violated any federal law by urging Mississippi Negroes to evade draft calls.

A department spokesman said any prosecution would be difficult because in order to prove a violation, "It has to be proved that the article had an appreciable effect on the Negroes to whom it was addressed—in other words, whether any of them evade the draft as a result of the article."

Old Fighter Crash Fatal

SANTA BARBARA (AP) — A converted World War II fighter plane crashed and burned in the hills near here, killing the pilot who had bought it a day earlier.

Killed in the crash yesterday was John B. Roche Jr., who was connected with the Bendix Radio Corp. in San Francisco.

The specially - fitted P38 bore cameras for use in aerial mapping. It was sold to Roche Tuesday by Mark Hurd Associates, a Santa Barbara firm, according to a fire department spokesmen.

Something's Rotten Around East Haven

EAST HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—Police received a tip recently that men dressed in dark clothing and wearing gloves "were dumping a safe" into the East Haven River. Officers rushed to the river with skindivers, a power winch and the coast guard auxiliary.

They found three bushels of dead fish. The fish, it turned out, were bait for a lobster fishing expedition that was postponed.

Surfing Control Ruling Sought

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) — Rhode Island's recreational safety director, Robert Wheeler, has asked for a ruling on what state agency controls surfing. Wheeler asked the ruling in order to deal with complaints surfers have been endangering swimmers.

Wheeler said as he interprets the law when the surfer falls off his board he becomes subject to regulation by the state division of parks and recreation as a swimmer but while aboard he comes under the state division of harbors and rivers that regulates navigable craft.

Frederick E. Lees, state natural resources director, told Wheeler he wanted to study the situation before making a ruling.

Tombstone Hobby Leading To Book

GROTON, Mass. (UPI) — Tom McGuire is a tombstone rubber. In fact, he's writing a book to be titled "The Art of Gravestone Rubbing."

McGuire, an art instructor at a Lowell junior high school, places a sheet of drawing paper over the face of the headstone and gets an impression by rubbing the paper with crayon, charcoal or pencil.

Right now he's busy taking impressions from 83 gravestones, bearing dates from 1743 to 1843, which were uncovered by workmen in a drainage culvert.

Social Security Expert Authors New Newspaper Series, Medicare Book

The nation's best newspaper authority on Social Security legislation has written a comprehensive series and booklet detailing increased benefits and added costs of the sweeping new Medicare/Social Security bill.

John Troan, science-medical writer for Scripps-Howard Newspaper Alliance and for 25 years an expert on Social Security, has written the first single volume digest of all the complexities of the new legislation.

The series and booklet remove the insecurity from Social Security and Medicare. Written especially for newspaper readers, in clear, understandable newspaper language, this vital public service is offered exclusively in this area by the Independent-Journal.

Troan has written extensively on Social Security matters since 1940 when a column he helped launch for the Pittsburgh Press ballooned into one of the most popular features in the paper.

During World War II Troan was an enlisted combat correspondent with the Pacific Fleet. He was aboard a carrier, a short bomber flight from Japan, when the first atom bomb was dropped on Hiroshima.

"I was intrigued by the awesome atom, and out of that mushroom cloud exploded a new career for me—science writing," Troan says.

He became science editor for The Press, and in 1958 was named science writer for SHNA. He was stationed in Washington, where he occupied a good legislative "listening post."

"But my interest in Social Security never waned," Troan says, "and I kept readers abreast of changes in the law even as I shuttled from laboratory to launch pad to report on scientific and medical marvels—everyting from polio vaccines to space ships."

Troan's medical and scientific reporting experience, coupled with his quarter-century of covering Social Security legislation, equip him admirably to interpret the complexities of the Medicare provisions in the new bill.

Troan was graduated from Pennsylvania State University in 1939. He has been guest lecturer at eight universities and consultant to a school of journalism. He's past president of the National Association of Science Writing, a founder and board member of the Council for Advancement of Science Writing, and holds memberships in the American Nuclear Society, American Institute of Aeronautics and Astronautics and the White House Correspondents Association.

He holds honorary memberships in the American Meteorological Society and the American for the Advancement of Science.

Soldier Honored For Viet Duty

Army Private Gary F. Cooper, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben F. Cooper of 85 Taylor Drive, Fairfax, was awarded the Combat Infantryman Badge for exemplary conduct under hostile fire in Viet Nam.

The award was for Cooper's service in an operation near Saigon last month involving his unit, the 173rd Airborne Brigade. This was the operation that sent thousands of Vietnamese and American troops into the D-Zone jungle, heavily infiltrated with Viet Cong.

Growing Revolt In State Welfare

By DEREK SCHOEN

SACRAMENTO (AP)—California's State Welfare Department is in the throes of a small but growing revolt.

Four rural counties, claiming the state is usurping local control over the touchy issue of welfare, are refusing to follow a department directive that they increase their welfare staffs.

And several other counties in the state's farm belt are ired over a state order requiring them to provide aid for migrant farm workers and their families.

The counties are calling for statewide support in their fight against "rigid, bureaucratic rules" and a "blizzard" of state red tape they claim is burying local government.

At issue are two departmental bulletins.

Bulletin 629 directed California's 58 counties to increase their welfare staffs. Behind the directive was legislation that gives counties until July 1, 1967, to provide one welfare case worker for every 60 recipients to qualify for federal matching funds.

Bulletin 644, put into effect on an emergency basis, requires counties to provide welfare assistance for migrant farm workers and their families. Previously, a man went off the welfare rolls—no matter what his earnings or how big his family—as soon as he accepted a farm job.

Solano County, on the northeastern shore of San Francisco Bay, led the rebellion against welfare staff expansion. The county's supervisors refused to hire 12 more workers, as suggested by the state, then cut out funds set aside in the budget for that purpose.

The action was inspired by a report from the Solano County Taxpayers' Association, whose executive manager, Charles Wood, termed the state's welfare operations "a blizzard of paperwork."

In addition to asserting the extra aides weren't necessary, Wood said county-state welfare operations were so overridden with red tape that the county has to provide one report "each 20 minutes of every working day"—a total of 5,953 reports to the state last year alone.

Within weeks, similar stands against the state directive were taken by El Dorado, Lassen and Siskiyou — large but sparsely populated counties farther north.

The state claims the position taken by the counties may end up costing them money. J. M. Wedemeyer, director of social welfare, says the federal government will pay 75 per cent of salary costs of the larger staffs, but only 50 per cent if the staffs are kept at present size.

The state is prepared to take a tough line if the revolt lasts beyond the 1967 federal deadline. Says Wedemeyer:

"We can either withhold all state or federal aid, or go to the courts to make the counties show cause why our directives aren't followed, or take over the administration of the county's welfare program."

The farm-rich counties of the state's central valley are providing the opposition to the department's order that migrant workers be given welfare assistance.

That fight is heading for a showdown Friday, when the department holds a hearing in Sacramento on whether or not to extend the emergency order that gave welfare coverage to farm workers.

With Mexican Nationals barred from working in the fields and domestic farm labor in short supply, it was originally believed the order would help attract welfare workers into the valley for seasonal harvests.

But the counties claim the extra assistance puts an overwhelming burden on local taxpayers, who—although the federal and state governments pick up some 80 per cent of the total welfare bill—still must pay a portion of the tab.

Strike Printing Hit By Labor

The Marin Labor Council last night passed a resolution for consideration of the State Federation of Labor calling attention to the printing for the past four pears of two official Girl Scout magazines under strike conditions.

The Kansas Color Press, explained council secretary-treasurer Hugh Cassidy, has printed "Girl Scout Leader" and "American Girl" since 1961 while being struck. The council desires other groups to consider this in dealing with the Girl Scout organization.

The council will hold its next meeting at 8 p.m. Aug. 18 in Painters Hall, 701 Mission Avenue, San Rafael.

Ex-Servicemen Find Civilian World Hard

Retiring miliary men with an average of 20 years in the armed services behind them often have a difficult time finding satisfactory employment in the competitive civilian world.

This is the philosophy guiding a cooperative program begun recently between the San Rafael office of the Department of Employment and Hamilton Air Force Base on a local scale and between other employment offices and military bases on a national scale.

The program includes briefing of men scheduled for retirement on the difficulties of finding a job and then individual assistance in securing a job from the employment service.

The program was prompted by statistics gathered in a number of studies. One showed 17 per cent of 504 officers and 21 per cent of 1,444 enlisted men still unemployed six months after their retirement.

Edwin W. Ayer, manager of the local Department of Employment office, explained that one of the retiring military man's largest problems is accepting an "almost inevitable" drop in salary in civilian life.

"These men have been away a long time," he says, "and they don't know what types of jobs there are or what they pay. An officer leaving a salary of $1,400 a month could possibly find a job at $700 a month and that would be doing pretty well."

Ayer says that men stationed in California and planning to retire in the next 18 months "should contact their base personnel officer for details about employment assistance."

Those already retired and living in Marin County, he said, may seek help with the local employment office at 805 E Street, San Rafael.

Russ Missile Sites 'Keep Chinese Out'

The presence of Russian missile sites in North Viet Nam is helping offset the Communist Chinese influence in that country, Surjit Singh, professor at San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo and author of "Communism, Christianity and Democracy," said yesterday.

Singh, who recently returned from Oxford University in England where he was working on another book, told members of the San Anselmo Rotary Club that the Vietnamese want to continue the independence from China which they worked for.

He said the presence of Russian missile sites in North Viet Nam gives the Russians great bargaining power to gain that country's allegiance to the Russian brand of communism instead of having its support go to the militant Chinese Communists.

Both the Russians and the Vietnamese want to contain the nationalistic expansionism of Red China, he said.

Singh, who has been on sabbatical leave from the seminary, emphasized that the war in Viet Nam is not a conventional civil war but a fight between two parts of a nation which was divided in 1954.

"This is a new kind of war," he declared. "The guerilla warfare is aimed at getting control first of the countryside, then of the small South Vietnamese cities.

"Upon gaining control of these areas, the Viet Cong hopes to menace the lines of communication, food and supplies and force the big cities to capitulate," he said.

Singh explained that the world is no longer in the post-World War II era but has entered a new period in history.

"Now the smaller nations have gained the capacity to involve the bigger nations in a decision-making process which may lead to World War III," he said.

He said the rise of nationalism, not only among emerging African nations but also in Europe and the Communist countries is another sign of the new era.

Population On Death Row Down

San Quentin Prison's Death Row population today stands technically at 50 men, actually at 49, according to a statistical sheet released by prison authorities.

The prison has 50 condemned men in its charge, but one of these is temporarily absent, called as a witness in a fellow prisoner's new trial. The condemned population reached its peak on May 18, with 55 men.

An additional 16 condemned prisoners are out in court receiving new trials and penalty trials. Of the prisoners who have received new trials since January, 1963, 13 were once again given the death sentence, according to the report.

Theft From School

An amplifier valued at $167 was taken from Novato High School sometime between June 15 and Aug. 3, Joseph D. Garguilo, principal of the summer school, reported yesterday to Novato police.

Mime Troupe Is Ousted From Parks

The San Francisco Mime Troupe, which recently closed a four-week run in Sausalito, found itself on the outs yesterday with the recreation and parks commission in its home town.

The San Francisco commissioners yesterday charged that the troupe's performances in city parks have been obscene, then cancelled its permit to do any more such shows.

Troupe director R. G. Davis threatened to go to court, and said the actors would go ahead with scheduled performances in Lafayette Park this weekend in defiance of the ban.

The mime troupe performed "A Minstrel Show, or Civil Rights in a Cracker Barrel" at Sausalito's Gate Theater last month.

Fireworks On Agenda

The Town of Corte Madera may have the 17th annual Fourth of July fireworks display next year if the Corte Madera Chamber of Commerce votes Wednesday to sponsor the event.

The special meeting of the chamber's board of directors has been called by president Richard G. Burns to discuss the proposal.

This year's fireworks display was the last one to be sponsored by the Larkspur-Corte Madera Joint Recreation Commission which was dissolved.

The directors also will consider approval of the formation of the proposed Marin County Chamber of Commerce and participating in the new group.

Bowles' Wife Asks Divorce

Chester Bowles Jr., architect from Tiburon and son of the U. S. ambassador to India, was sued for divorce yesterday in Marin Superior Court.

The wife, Holly, charges extreme cruelty. She asks physical custody of the four children, Timothy, 15, Nathaniel, 13, Harry Fisk, 8, and Michael Taylor, 7.

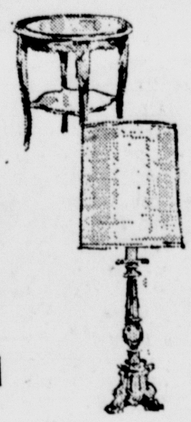

A property settlement, also filed yesterday, provides her with the family home at 180 Hacienda Drive, their 1961 Fiat automobile, the house furnishings, $100 monthly alimony and $125 support for each child monthly.

The couple wed in Worcester, Mass., on Dec. 4, 1948, and separated last June 16. Bowles is a partner in the architect firm of Richard C. Marshall and Chester Bowles Jr.

School Funds

Marin County schools and the county school service fund will receive $7,662,323 from the state school fund during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1966, according to an announcement from the office of state superintendent Max Rafferty. The state fund totals $864,976,617.

Mountain Theater Program Is Slated

A dozen harps and other instruments plus a 45-piece symphony orchestra will give the birds serious competition Saturday and Sunday as the Marin Summer Festival of the Arts continues in the amphitheater on Mount Tamalpais.

The 3 p.m. programs are a "Harp Festival" concert Saturday and "Composers' Showcase" Sunday.

New music of Bay Area composers will be heard at both concerts. Mill Valley harpist Joel Andrews will present the harp in solo, in tandem, trio and ensemble with piano, flute, cello and percussion and as accompaniment to song and spoken poetry.

Lou Harrison's suite for cello and harp will be performed by Sally Kell and Andrews. Carole Bogard will sing a new work by Robert Hughes for soprano, harp, cello, flute and percussion. Andrews will play his own "Sea Suite" and the Lyra Trio will perform "Upon Enchanted Ground" by Alan Hovhaness.

The entire Sunday concert will be devoted to new music of Bay Area composers. Ernst Bacon of Berkeley will be represented by his "Fables" for narrator and orchestra, with Knowles Robertson as narrator.

John Edmunds of Sausalito has composed for the festival "The Urban Muse," contemporary hymns of praise based on old tunes. Its world premiere will be performed by the festival orchestra conducted by Robert Hughes and Marin Pro Musica directed by Wilbur F. Russell of the San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo.

Aptos composer Lou Harrison will be represented by his "Pacifica Rondo," a musical tour of the Pacific Basin, which incorporates some rare Oriental instruments with the western orchestra. The concert opens and closes with a solemn procession and joyous recession, also written by Harrison.

Arthur Wilson of San Francisco is producing director of "Composers' Showcase."

Tickets for the two concerts are available at all Bay Area Greyhound depots and at the gate on performance days. Greyhound will run special buses to the amphitheater from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. each day.

Immunization Bill Signed

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson announced today a goal of adding five years to the life expectancy of the average American within the next decade.

Signing into law a bill extending for three years federal grants for immunization against contagious diseases, Johnson said the administration is seeking "very ambitious but attainable and realistic goals" for improving the life of Americans.

He named one of them as the extension of life expectancy from 70 to 75 years.

The bill he signed will provide $33 million in federal grants over four years for mass immunization programs attacking polio, diphtheria, tetanus, whooping cough and measles.

Anti-Shriver Corps Measure Is Dropped

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Senate-House conference committee has dropped from the Peace Corps authorization bill an amendment designed to force R. Sargent Shriver to resign one of two top federal posts.

The amendment, inserted into the measure in the Senate, said that the head of the Peace Corps could hold no other federal post of equivalent rank. Shriver heads both the Peace Corps and the Office of Economic Opportunity, which runs the administration's anti-poverty campaign.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., who admires Shriver but feels he should devote full time to one job, sponsored the amendment.

House members of the conference committee insisted it was unconstitutional, and Senate conferees agreed yesterday to drop it.

Richmond Crash Kills Teen-Ager

RICHMOND (AP)—A 15-year-old boy was killed and six others including an 11-day-old infant were injured Wednesday in a three-car collision on San Pablo Avenue.

Police identified the dead youth as Robert L. Jones, of San Pablo. He was riding in a car driven by Larry Clarine, 16.

Officers said Clarine's northbound car collided head-on with another auto driven by Mrs. Barbara Akins, 27, also of San Pablo.

Police said a third car collided with the other autos. The driver was identified as Mrs. Eva Cooper, 29, Pinole.

WEAVER LEADING DRIVE TO BUY CAMEL FOR ZOO

Mrs. Axel Gravander of Mill Valley is leading a fund-raising drive to buy a bactrian camel for the San Francisco Zoo.

It's a kind of a "thank you" gesture to the zoo because each spring Mrs. Gravander, a weaver, and her 15 to 30 weaving students are given bags full of camel hair which the animals shed as the weather warms.

Weavers so far have collected $800 in the three years since the drive started from selling camel hair weavings and those from sheep, and other fibers. They have pledged $1,500 toward buying the male bactrian (one hump) camel to keep the lone female bactrian company, Mrs. Gravander said.

Marathon Mark Falls To Youths

RIVER EDGE, N.J. (AP) — More than 30 youngsters were running in circles today after claiming what they say is the American long-distance running marathon record of 3,100 miles.

The boys snapped the record last night and are still running —around the one-third mile track at Veterans Memorial Park.

The athletes, ranging in age from 14 to 21, began running in relays July 30 and hope to keep going until tomorrow night.

The marathon's purpose is to arouse interest in long-distance running.

Another Bomb Blast Hits Chicago Area

CHICAGO (AP) — A bomb exploded last night outside a three-story building housing a glass company breaking some 40 windows. No one was injured.

Police did not connect the bombing to a series of explosions in downtown Chicago last month.

Legal Poverty Aid Is Urged

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — "I want the legal profession of California to become outraged about poverty," Gov. Brown told a gathering of fellow lawyers today.

The governor, speaking to a conference on law and the anti-poverty program he called, told the attorneys:

"Programs to provide legal services for the poor have gotten off to a slow start in California." He noted in prepared remarks that only two neighborhood law offices are in the process of being opened in poverty-hit areas, while other states are moving fast in the program.

The idea is to provide legal services in areas where poor people live.

Pull That Barge

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — A record of 38,516,345 tons of cargo was carried on the Mississippi River betweens the mouths of the Ohio and Missouri rivers in 1964, Army Engineers say.

Employment Card For Girl, 11, Called Slip By Manager

"It was a slip," manager Edwin W. Ayer of the San Rafael office of the State Department of Employment admitted yesterday.

He was referring to the granting of an employment card from his office to 11-year-old Velma Deschwanden of 1714 Mission Avenue, San Rafael. State law prohibits employment of persons under 12 except in special cases like acting in motion pictures.

Velma had no such glamorous job in mind when she toured cowntown San Rafael last week looking for work. A solemn, serious girl of slight build, she wants to be a secretary.

Ayer says he wasn't aware of Velma's presence on the job market until he read a story about her in the Independent-Journal Friday.

"As nearly as I can determine," he said yesterday after querying his staff, "the child came into the information window and, because there were a number of other people waiting at the time for her work applications to be completed, the receptionist went ahead and accepted the application from her.

"Normally, they get the application from the receptionist and then she gives them an appointment with a completion interviewer. I have to assume that the receptionist was trying to do her a favor; instead she got us all in a mix-up. Which happens," he concluded philosophically.

Anti-Medicare Acts Urged

CHICAGO (UPI)—The Association of American Physicians and Surgeons AAPS yesterday urged its 16,500 members not to participate in the government's medicare program.

The group, which is headquartered here, issued a policy statement that said such noncooperation was legal.

"Our association recommends a policy of nonparticipation to all physicians as the only legal, moral, and ethical means of concretely expressing their complete disapproval of the spirit and philosophy behind these amendments," the statement said.

Protected by fibrous bark, natural insulation up to 12 inches thick, sequoia sempervirens survive fire, disease and insect depredations.

TIP ON HOW TO USE WATER

Never depend on an innertube when you are in the water, the Red Cross advises. It is too easy to slip through it or have it slip away from you. Learn to swim. If you need a flotation device to begin with, be sure it is a safe one and will not leave you.

Sit-In Leaders Get Jail Terms

BERKELEY (AP) — Another leader of last December's Free Speech Movement sit-in on the University of California's Berkeley campus, has been given a jail sentence for participating in the demonstration.

Arthur Goldberg, a student leader during the Dec. 2-3 Sproul Hall sit-in, was sentenced yesterday to 120 days in jail by Municipal Court Judge Rupert Crittenden.

Also among 75 demonstrators sentenced yesterday was Bettina Aptheker, 20-year-old coed who describes herself as a "revolutionary socialist." She received jail terms of 45 days each on charges of trespassing and resisting arrest, the terms to concurrently.

Two Marinites Have Roles In Semantics Conference

Two Mill Valley men and a San Quentin prison counselor will play key roles in the International Conference on General Semantics, to be held next week at San Francisco State College.

Program chairman will be S. I. Hayakawa, professor of English at the college and a founder of the International Society for General Semantics.

Dr. William H. Pemberton, Mill Valley psychologist, will conduct a session on "Problems of Psychotherapy" at 11 a.m. Tuesday. Hayakawa will be among speakers at the general session at 8 p.m. Tuesday. His remarks will be on "Marxist and Non-Marxist Theories of Language."

Also appearing at that session will be a Soviet philosopher, V. V. Mshvenieradze, who will speak on "Dialectical Materialism and Semantic Philosophy." He is chairman of the Institute of Philosophy at Moscow's Academy of Sciences.

At the 11 a.m. session on Wednesday, group counselor Norman Harrington of San Quentin Prison will speak on communication problems of the prison's inmates.

Still other sessions will relate general semantics to literature, mathematics, politics, education, business and other fields.

Martha Johnson of Inverness is a patron of the session, while Mrs. June Oppen Degnan of Tiburon and Miss Johnson are on the advisory committee.

Police Overpowered In Teen-Age Rioting

CASPER, Wyo. (AP)—Three law enforcement officers were overpowered and beaten unconscious by some 100 rioting teenagers at a rodeo last night, police reported.

The attack was reportedly set off when a Casper policeman attempted to break up a fight at a teen dance at the Central Wyoming Fair and Rodeo.

Foreign Unrest Research Out

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has directed Secretary of State Dean Rusk to make sure the government does not engage in research in foreign countries that adversely affect U.S. foreign relations.

The White House said yesterday that Johnson's directive was prompted by Project Camelot, an Army-sponsored study of the causes of social unrest and revolutions which was cancelled July 8 after the U.S. ambassador to Chile protested.

Rusk told newsmen that Chile was not involved in Project Camelot but that some investigators from Camelot questioned some university professors in Chile and their activity was purposely misunderstood.

Watch, Coins Stolen

John Murray, 47, of 1105 Mirabella Avenue, Novato, yesterday reported to Novato police that a watch, coins and sweaters valued at $500 had been taken from his home. The theft occurred between July 22 and 30, Murray said.

Supervisors Are Correct In Rejecting Auto Tariff

County supervisors this week made a sound decision in rejecting the auto license tax to finance the Marin Transit District.

There is no question that some type of subsidy will be needed if a transit system (even an improved bus system) is to be set up in Marin County.

However, to slap an extra 25 per cent tax on auto registration fees would have been an unfair burden on one category of citizens, who would not necessarily benefit the most from improved bus service.

We all recognize the fact that the property owner is already taxed to the hilt. But if anyone must be taxed in order to bring inter-county and intra-county bus service to Marin County, then it would probably have to be the property owner.

An improved bus service, like any other public improvement, would increase the value of property in the county. Advertisements on homes are quick to point out the various assets, and foremost among them are proximity to buses, schools and shopping areas.

Last November, an overwhelming majority of Marin voters approved the Marin County Transit District. At the same time, the voters authorized a tax levy of up to 5 cents per $100 assessed valuation. However, this 5-cent rate alone will not be nearly enough to launch the proposed public bus service.

An estimated 140 to 150 buses are needed to give Marin adequate service. Purchase price of these buses would be about $3.8 to $4 million.

County authorities are hoping that the federal government can chip in half, and the Golden Gate Bridge will come up with one-fourth. The remaining one-fourth would amount to nearly a million dollars.

This big capital outlay can never be paid by bus fares alone. It has always been recognized that some public subsidy would be needed.

The county supervisors have agreed to shop around for some other means of financing the bus system.

One suggestion has been that "in lieu" taxes that are now being collected be used for the bus system. But that money is already being used for other purposes. Some other county service must suffer if that money is diverted to buses.

Unless some other county function can be drastically curtailed to release funds for bus service, or some unexpected aid comes from an outside source (neither of which is likely), Marin residents will have to be tapped for more funds in one form or another.

We are happy, however, that the car owner was not singled out to be the "goat" to finance an enterprise that would benefit all property owners in general.

Discovery Of Anti-Matter Is Ominous

The idea that there might possibly be a kind of mirror image world to our own which is composed of the exact opposite electrical charges from ours was given impetus last month with the discovery of anti-deuteron, a particle of anti-matter.

A Columbia University research team proved the existence of this anti-matter at Brookhaven National Laboratory. It has long been a theory dear to the hearts of science fiction writers.

The idea that somewhere in the anti-universe at this very moment there may be scores of anti-editors writing anti-editorials for anti-newspapers strikes us as being a bit ominous. Doubtless, thinking of pro-editors writing pro-editorials would be enough to make an anti-editor reach for an acid tablet to combat alkaline stomach brought on by under-eating and anti-stress.

Donner Summit Highway Perils Happily Gone But Not Forgotten

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO — It seems the State Highway Department should have more recognition than it has over the near completion of old U.S. 40, now Interstate 80, from Sacramento east to the California state line, en route to Reno, Nev.

PEOPLE WHO drive the road these days may not remember what a man-killer it was a few years ago. The many accidents, the deaths from traffic crashes, all have been cut down by a feat of engineering that may be unequalled in road building any place in the world.

They also may not remember the grueling hours it took to drive the highway from Auburn over the hump to Truckee.

Nor may they remember the heavy snows which sometimes closed the road for days and halted all transportation east, despite the prodigious efforts of the highway snow removal crews to keep the route open to traffic.

Of course, the winter snows still are a hazard, but with the modern methods of stopping all traffic for chains when the going gets slick, and the improved equipment operated by the snow crews, delays are being minimized.

LAST WEEK, we drove from Truckee to Sacramento in an hour and a half. This was a Sunday afternoon, when traffic in mid-summer used to make the same trip at least a three-hour jaunt.

Traffic moved at a smooth 70 to 75 miles an hour, not a dangerous speed for the condition of the highway and the amount of traffic. Where once hours of time were wasted following huge trucks, those vehicles kept to the right side of the highway where they belonged, and let the swifter traffic pass by.

Nor were there any accidents seen, and no hold-ups of traffic to wait for ambulances and wrecking cars to clear the road.

Gone is the twisting, winding, tortuous three miles from the head of Donner Lake to the top of Donner Summit. One can see that old road from the new highway, and a couple of lone cars were wending their way up, possibly tourists seeking the view from the Donner Bridge.

ALSO GONE are the speedsters who attempted to cheat around the corners and endangered all of the traffic.

A 10-mile stretch between Auburn and Colfax, four-laned but not full freeway, is all that is left to remind the traveler of those "good old days" of hectic driving. There are plenty of mountain roads left if anyone wants to return to them. And indications are from work on the road that the 10 miles not as yet full freewayed is on the way.

Even stopping off for gas, although that isn't necessary if the driver is ordinarily prudent, is not a chore. Turn-outs to stations are frequent, and getting back on the road is no trick at all.

Kentfield Election Called Rubber Stamp

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Just 10 per cent, out of 18 per cent bothering to vote, raised the school taxes for all of Kentfield. Such minority control is possible because voting these days has become something of a joke. When a tax measure is rejected, calamitous warnings are issued, followed by election after election until voter resistance is broken. Evidently 82 per cent of Kentfield voters decided to save the time. Election? Rubber stamp would be more accurate.

Rejecting an increase is in fact a vote of no confidence. If rejection occurs, one year, preferably two, should pass, during which time review of spending by a Citizens' Committee would be mandatory. Then, and only then, would another election be permissible. Checks and balances would be provided, and, if a tax increase becomes needed, a voter turnout worthy of that election would occur.

Incidentally, I see that New York City plans to abandon its junior high system starting in September.

Women Voters League Defended

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Such a fascinatingly diverse group of organizations that the letter-writing person chose to call suspect. The single one of which I can speak from close personal observation is the League of Women Voters.

There is no need to defend the LWV to knowledgable citizens in any walk of life, but as is obvious from that letter there is also staggering ignorance.

Public-spirited citizens from President Johnson on down have praised the nonpartisan effectiveness of the League. The League abhors uninformed voters and would no doubt be happy to furnish enlightening, informative material to the letter writer if she has any interest in becoming informed.

Underground Utility Foresight Lacking?

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Brief note on costs of underground utilities: At the Third Street Extension construction project now under construction (from E to H Sts.), the PG&E (gas division), the MMWD, and the City are trenching both sides of the street, while the PG&E (power division) is simultaneously erecting new poles! What price lack of vision?

Bagley Considers Gardiner Proposal

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I want to commend Judge Samuel W. Gardiner, in his capacity as juvenile court judge, for his suggestions which look toward adding to the authority of our elementary and high school teachers. Like the judge, I know that simply deputizing a teacher will not in and of itself solve some of our school's social ills. Nonetheless, it is my opinion that an atmosphere of authority is appropriate at times in dealing with those borderline cases where a civil authority beyond the teacher's limited jurisdiction is needed. Perhaps in those instances it would be most desirable to lodge additional authority, in the sense of peace keeping and law enforcement, in our schools. This would not necessarily mean that each teacher of every class from kindergarten on up must be deputized.

In accordance with the above line of thought, I am asking the state office of the California Teachers' Assn., with whom I deal, to give me their thoughts on this over-all problem. Further, I will ask the Assembly Education Committee, during this interim period, to undertake some studies in this field, looking toward the possibility of implementing, by legislation, the thoughts that our good judge has expressed.

Students Could Help Beautify Playgrounds

Editor, Independent-Journal:

There was a letter to the editor in today's paper (July 27) about young people helping keep taxes down.

There is a thing that has been a puzzle to me: Why can't the students in high school keep up the grounds, in other words do the gardening. For that matter the older children in grade school could do the same to beautify their schools.

It is something that seems to be necessary more and more, although I must confess that I don't see what it has to do with education, except that they would learn to work, take care of the school grounds and make things grow, which would be something—or am I being an old fuddy-duddy, like "raining on somebody's parade"?

More Marin Dogs Submit To Needle

Editor, Independent-Journal:

My staff and I wish to express our gratitude for the excellent coverage the Independent-Journal gave our recent Rabies Clinics. You will be interested to know that 2,423 dogs were immunized and that you were greatly responsible for this success. We questioned a number of dog owners who brought their pets to the clinics; over 50 per cent of them reported they had found out about the clinics through your paper.

We appreciate the continuing help you have given us in making Marin County a healthier place in which to live.

BENNETT CERF

IN HOME construction circles they're still telling the story of the newly crowned king of finance who was showing his ultra-modern push-button country home to a friend. "Here's the neatest gadget of the lot," he exulted. "After a night on the town, I sometimes feel like stepping into a nice hot bath right here without the trouble of going to the bathroom. I just press this little button. . . ."

He pressed the button and in rolled the bathtub, full of nice hot water—and the wife of the king of finance.

THE PUBLISHERS of "An American Dream," Norman Mailer's new novel, gave him a celebrity-studded party in Greenwich Village. Holiday Magazine's Caskie Stinett caught one publicity-conscious starlet guzzling drinks and posing for photographs, and asked, "When did you meet Norman Mailer?" She replied, puzzled, "Norman WHO?"

INTERNATIONAL fame and fortune have created new problems for humorist Art Buchwald. "I made so much money last year," he confesses, "that I'm now negotiating a loan to pay the taxes. I used to buy an occasional gift for my wife at Cartier's or Tiffany's, but that's when we were poor. And my house! It costs so much to run! For the rest of my life I'll be working for it. Not everybody knows what he's working for. I do. I can see it every day."

President Has Acted Positively With Domestic, Foreign Crises

WASHINGTON (AP)—It's been an odd year. But the odds have been with President Lyndon B. Johnson, at home and abroad, and he's played them hard.

Johnson's worst problem, Viet Nam, was inherited from President John F. Kennedy.

AT HOME, thanks to the 1964 election landslide, Johnson deals with a Congress where his Democrats far outnumber Republicans.

With Kennedy it was the opposite. The Democrats' narrow squeak in the 1960 elections gave him a Congress where his party's majority was far less. So Johnson could get his programs through far easier than Kennedy could.

But in his best day, no matter the kind of Congress, Kennedy was no match for Johnson in endless energy and manipulation of the men in the Capitol.

Even in racial disturbances Johnson has had less trouble than Kennedy. But Johnson in his public statements has expressed more concern for Negroes than Kennedy or any president in history.

One of the unknowns of Johnson's presidency is how he will do with complicated and critical situations overseas, since he is far less experienced in foreign affairs than domestic issues.

BUT ABROAD there have been no crises or complexities that needed his full attention, except for Viet Nam and the Dominican Republic, which meant he could concentrate on them.

Ordinarily an American president in any given year could expect a hatful of grief with foreign problems. Kennedy's biggest individual problem was with Russian Premier Nikita Khrushchev. Example: The Cuban missile crisis.

But after the treaty banning nuclear tests, in 1963, Khrushchev calmed down and American - Russian relations improved. Last October the Russians threw Khrushchev out.

His successors are gray compared with him, quieter, and apparently more concerned with problems in Russia and relations with Red China than the rest of the world, which is a big switch from Khrushchev.

Johnson is having little trouble there. And noisy Red China, although snarling at Russia and the United States with equal hostility, seems bent on keeping out of trouble at least until it has more nuclear capability.

India's Prime Minister Nehru was a vivid figure, and sometimes a painful one for this country, but he's dead and his successors, like those of Khrushchev in Russia, are playing in a low key.

EXCEPT FOR some obstinacies by French President Charles de Gaulle, who was a constant irritant to Kennedy, the Western alliance has been placid. And this year there have been no major explosions in the Arab or African worlds.

Johnson's most critical moment in Viet Nam came when the guerrillas attacked an American base last February and he ordered the bombing of North Vietnamese targets. The air strikes are still being carried out.

This brought criticism but not intense enough to weaken Johnson. His decisions after the bombing order—like sending in more American troops—grave as they were, were an anticlimax to the bombing.

Before there is a Vietnamese settlement, though, Johnson may face a decision far more critical than Kennedy encountered: How far to extend the war since it could mean a land war in Asia with Russia and Red China.

HIS DECISION to send troops into the Dominican Republic may have been much more significant than that one action: It may mean he will act faster and tougher than Kennedy would in situations around the world.

INSIDE WASHINGTON

McNamara Flayed On Penny-Pinching

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON—The Senate Armed Services Preparedness Subcommittee is sitting on a confidential report charging Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara's "cost-paring economy policies have left the Army with shocking equipment and ammunition shortages."

The 100-page document, which is being sent to the White House, warns that the Army is ill-equipped to meet its world-wide commitments, including an enlarged role in the Viet Nam fighting.

The report estimates that at least $6 billion is needed to equip the Army's 16 divisions with weapons and supplies called for in their own organization tables.

ANOTHER $4 to $6 billion is needed, according to the senators, to replace outdated pre-Korean War equipment still being used by many of the Army's combat units.

The blistering report reveals that the Army, in keeping fighting units in Viet Nam supplied, is being forced to strip equipment from strategic reserve divisions stationed in the U.S. and to deplete military stockpiles in Europe. Large stocks of equipment programmed for National Guard and reserve units have been diverted to Viet Nam.

The Senate probers have uncovered shortages in all types of combat arms, ranging from automatic weapons to machine guns and from recoilless rifles to heavy mortar and artillery pieces.

Helicopters, light aircraft, trucks, armored weapons carriers, anti-aircraft guns, tanks and communications supplies were listed as "in serious short supply." Spare parts for equipment sent to Viet Nam were reported "not available" in numerous instances because of McNamara's failure to keep production lines going.

While the subcommittee's report covers only Army shortages, the senators' three-month investigation of the military services' preparations for a "limited war" turned up "similar shocking deficiencies" in Air Force and Navy equipment.

ONE HIGH-RANKING Air Force officer told the subcommittee that "U.S. aircraft losses in the Viet Nam war are now running at more than 40 a month—a higher attrition rate than planes are being replaced from the production lines."

Chairman John Stennis, D-Miss., and other committee members are so disturbed by these disclosures they have privately informed President Lyndon B. Johnson that, if an effort to remedy this dangerous military supply situation isn't begun immediately, they will "air the entire mess" in public hearings.

The legislators already have summoned McNamara, who was given a copy of the confidential document two weeks ago, to appear behind closed doors to explain the shortages and present his plans for ending this arms crisis.

The politically explosive report is being turned over to the Senate Military Appropriations Subcommittee for use in questioning McNamara when he testifies this week on the administration's request for $2 billion in additional defense funds.

Suspicion Fosters Nuclear Arms Race

By K. C. THALER

GENEVA (UPI)—Nuclear experts are sounding alarm that the world is on the brink of a very rapid spread of atomic capability.

THE CONSEQUENCES are bluntly termed "fearful" for the political and military policies of the great powers. Broadly, there is agreement between the West and Russia on the need to check the extremely dangerous nuclear race. But political argument and suspicion are blocking concrete action.

The first confrontation between the United States, Britain and Russia at the Geneva conference table, after a 10-month recess, has given little hope for fast—let alone effective—joint action toward closing the doors of the so-called nuclear club.

East-West differences and suspicion are not the only elements in this impasse. The absence of Red China and France, both emerging nuclear powers, from the Geneva negotiations, is giving the conference an air of unreality. Peking and Paris have served notice they will not consider themselves bound by any decisions to limit the nuclear race that might be reached here.

EVEN WHILE the Americans, British and Russians were meeting here news reached them that Red China is readying new nuclear tests. Indonesia, a close follower of Peking, also announced she would test a nuclear device this year.

The experts are fully agreed that any accord to stop the proliferation of nuclear weapons must be accompanied by an undertaking on part of the non-nuclear nations not to acquire nuclear might.

The majority would happily underwrite such a pledge. But there are others less inclined to do so, notably those which consider themselves directly threatened by the bomb of the neighbors, for instance, India.

The fearful ones want guarantees both against the threat from nuclear attack and from nuclear or other military blackmail.

Western experts now concede that such guarantees are difficult if not impossible to provide, short of clearly defined commitments in a military alliance.

TO MAKE SUCH nuclear guarantees effective and acceptable — especially for such unaligned nations as India — the West would have to join in them with Russia and no one in Geneva can see this happening in present circumstances.

MORRIE RYSKIND

Ben Franklin's Ghost Invoked To Talk Common Sense To U.S.

IN THE OLD DAYS, when I needed some common sense shed on a problem, I would get in touch with the shade of Ben Franklin, a pre-McKinley troglodyte. My liaison was Mme. ESP, a local Gypsy medium: If I crossed her palm with gold she would arrange the ectoplasmic interview. For a little extra Ben would show up flying a kite.

But gold went out with FDR, and Mme. ESP, being reasonable, settled for silver. Now that that, too, is gone, however, she has shut up shop and departed for France, where, thanks to de Gaulle, a lady can still be paid off in precious metal.

So I've lost touch with Ben. I did send him a letter in care of the Saturday Evening Post, but it came back with a notation, "Unknown here. Place under new management."

STILL, MAYBE he'll read this, if only because the librarian Up There shows it to him. They keep files there on everything, I hear.

I'm not sure that the miracle can be arranged, but they can't shoot you for asking—and only a miracle can now save us from ourselves. If Ben would come back for just an hour and talk his plain horse sense about what government can and can't do: A nation-wide TV address, at prime time, might yet restore our native intelligence and stop us from taking the last step to perdition. The odds might be against him, but the public always listened to Ben in his day; and so, by the way, did the intellectuals.

The story goes that when Ben emerged from the final session of the Constitutional Convention a lady asked, "What have you given us, Mr. Franklin?" And his reply was, "A republic—if you can keep it."

WELL, BEN, the signs are we've decided not to keep it. We are forsaking it for something called the Great Society, a compound of 40 different quack remedies tried and found wanting before, but now offered in a beautiful bottle—and for free. We are discarding your sound adages and homely philosophy for a nostrum of glittering slogans that dazzle the eye and charm the unthinking ear, but have no more substance than the Kickapoo Indian remedies offered by con men from Diocletian to Karl Marx.

These new-fangled economists, who apparently studied under John Law, deride your "He that goes a-borrowing goes a-sorrowing" as "Puritan ethics." There's nothing wrong, they say, in living beyond our means, so live it up and let future generations pay.

And, boy, are we doing it! Our national government, our states and our cities have huge debts that will probably never be erased. We owe more than the rest of world combined, but pick up the tab for some 90-odd "underprivileged" nations. Even our personal bankruptcies mount shockingly, but that's probably added to our gross national product, so it can't be all bad.

The Treasury has just announced proudly that the government's management improvement program—I don't know what that is, but there's certainly room for improvement there—saved over $30 million this fiscal year. But where is it? In the safe? At Fort Knox? Will it be used to reduce the debt? You must be kidding.

Ben, you may need a Madison Avenue approach to help you sell "God helps them that help themselves." That was hip jive in your day, saying clearly if you wanted the Lord's help you first had to show Him you were willing to carry your own weight.

BUT IF YOU wouldn't do any stoop labor, the Lord didn't promise a thing. That's where the Great Society steps in to even things up. If Peter stoops more than Paul, the boys gladly pay part of Paul's rent in a new apartment by robbing Peter. This is known as fair shares.

You wouldn't know it, Ben, but we're in a war, and American boys are dying in far-off places. Now it is history that you can't have butter and guns at the same time. I doubt that your army would have lasted till Yorktown if Washington had been fighting for rent subsidies during the winter at Valley Forge; and even FDR forgot about reforms to concentrate on World War II.

But our current commander in chief thinks you can have both. He watches Viet Nam, but he has time left over to twist arms for his social legislation, too. The greatest of generals can fight only one war at a time.

You see the spot we're in, Ben. Unless something is done rapidly, this Texas Bubble is going to burst and make the damage of John Law's Mississippi Bubble seem like small potatoes.

WE NEED YOU sorely, Ben, if only to remind us again: "They that can give up essential liberty to obtain a little temporary safety deserve neither liberty nor safety."

Sociologist Argues For Dope Controls

RIVERSIDE, Calif. (UII) — A University of California sociologist has charged that the United States "has legislated the narcotics question out of the hands of organized crime."

Dr. Troy S. Duster, assistant professor of sociology, said most addicts use about $18 worth of narcotics a day and turn to prostitution and crime to support their habits. He proposed that doctors be allowed to dispense drugs to addicts through clinics.

Today is Thursday, Aug. 5, the 217th day of 1965 with 148 to follow.

The moon is approaching its full phase; the morning stars are Jupiter and Saturn; the evening stars are Venus and Mars.

American cartoonist Clare Briggs was born on this day in 1875.

On this day in history:

In 1858, the first transatlantic cable was completed.

In 1912, the Progressive Party, which bolted from the Republicans, met in Chicago to nominate Theodore Roosevelt for president.

In 1962, actress Marilyn Monroe died of an overdose of barbiturates.

In 1964, Premier Tshombe of the Congo tried to form a coalition government.

A thought for the day— Author Ernest Hemingway said: "The first and most important thing of all, at least for writers today, is to strip language clean, to lay it bare down to the bone."

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce, United States Coast Geodetic Survey, Western District headquarters. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

The column of heights gives the elevation in feet of each tide above or below the plane of Coast Survey chart soundings. The depths are always additive to the chart depths unless preceded by a minus sign (-), when the numbers are subtracted from the depth given in the chart. Light-face type indicates a.m. times; bold-face type indicates p.m. times.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Losers, Winners Both Count In Making Tough Trump Contract

It isn't enough to count your losers when you are playing a difficult hand at a trump contract. Count your winners as well.

You may find that you need more winners, even though the first fast count of losers is reassuring.

Opening lead — ♣ K

South thought he would lose only one club and two hearts. He ruffed the second club, drew three rounds of trumps and led a heart.

EAST RETURNS

East won with the king of hearts and shrewdly returned a club.

Declarer ruffed with dummy's last trump, discarding a heart, and forced out the ace of hearts. West returned another club, punching out South's last trump.

South now had the ten-five of hearts and had to give up the last trick to West's nine of hearts or to East's good diamond.

Down one.

FAST ASSUMPTION

South should not assume that he has only two heart losers. This is true only if he manages to ruff a heart or two in dummy.

For this reason he cannot afford to draw trumps.

After ruffing the second club South should lead hearts at once. If East returns a club, dummy can ruff and will still have enough trumps to ruff a heart or two.

CLAIM THE REST

South can give up a heart, can ruff a heart in dummy with the ace of trumps and can draw trumps and claim the rest of the tricks.

South can make the contract by going after dummy's diamonds instead of his own hearts (although this is an inferior line of play). He can ruff the second club, cash the top diamonds and ruff a diamond.

He cashes the king and ace of spades, ruffs another diamond, and will eventually ruff in dummy to draw the last trump and cash the good diamond.

The important thing is to get the side suit started before drawing trumps.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with one spade, and the next player passes. You hold:

♠ 7 5 4
♡ A 9 8 3
♢ 10 7
♣ A K J 6.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid two clubs.

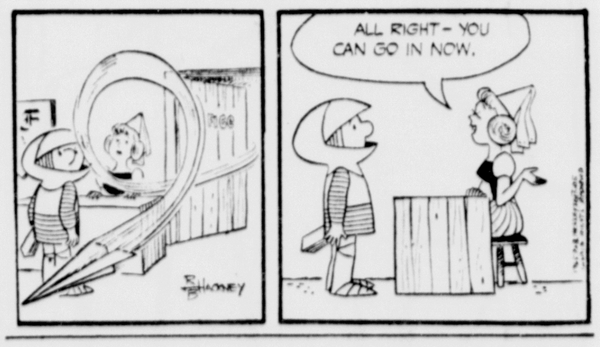

You have enough strength for game, opposite an opening bid, but you are not sure yet of the best contract. If partner rebids the spades, you will go to game in spades.

If he bids diamonds, you will suggest game in notrump.

The Pink House

Don't "brush off" this home as "just another 4 bedroom." And don't let the price fool you. The bedrooms are NOT SMALL, and the closet space and other storage is more than ample; the kitchen is equipped with a built-in gas stove, disposal, dishwasher, fan, good counter space, and loads of daylight. If a kitchen can be a pleasure to work in, this is it. A convenient dining area adjoins the kitchen; the living room is warm and spacious with a fireplace and carpeting; and the 2 bath rooms are a delight. The 2-car garage completes the picture. And the crowning joy is the price: Here is the bedrooms, the space, the floor plan, the location, and the price that makes this the top family home being offered anywhere today. Only $28,950.

Good Samaritan Rides A Bike In South Africa

LISBON (AP) — A South African vacationer is seeking a Mozambican miner who saved his life.

Juan Eder of Johannesburg was on vacation at Xai-Xai Beach. As he and his wife were walking, he saw an automobile kill a large snake. Eder, barefoot, was photographing the serpent, when a second one came out of the brushwood and bit his foot. It was a green mamba, deadly.

At that moment a young native came by. He put a tourniquent on Eder's foot and sucked the poison. He then put him on his bicycle and took him to a nearby first aid station. By the time Eder had recovered his equinamity, his rescuer had disappeared, without leaving his name.

Doctors told Eder that he would have been dead within half an hour if the youth had not given him first aid.

Surfing began centuries ago as a contest among Hawaiian kings. Stakes were war canoes, pigs, and sometimes wives. Royal competitors had to be hefty just to maneuver the 14-foot, 150-pound hardwood boards. Not surprisingly, two of the best surfers were King Kamehameha, who was 6 feet, 6 inches tall and weighed 400 pounds, and his Queen Kaahamanu, only a few inches shorter and a few pounds lighter.

City May Build Spanish Quarter

MIAMI (AP) — Establishment of a downtown Spanish quarter, roughly comparable to New Orlean's French quarter, has been proposed for Miami.

Robert L. Shevin, chairman of the city's Economic Advisory Board, said such a center would be a tourist attraction. Other city representatives said it would fit in with plans to revitalize the downtown area, caught in a move to the suburbs.

Miami has 150,000 Spanish speaking residents, including

TELEVISION REVIEW

James Bond Kick Goes Into Comedy

By ROBERT MUSEL

NE WYORK (UPI) — One of the big new shows on NBC - TV this autumn will be "Get Smart." This is how it happened.

Shortly after the success of the first two James Bond movies writers Mel Brooks and Buck Henry were sitting around chatting with Dan Melnick of Talent Associates about possible ideas for a TV series.

"How about kidding the James Bond craze?" Melnick suggested.

"Great idea," said the writers.

This, incidentally, is the standard reply when a producer makes a suggestion.

"But the more we kicked it around," Henry said, "the funnier it got — at least to us. We decided on a secret agent named Smart — Maxwell Smart — and gave him, as his most sterling quality, a remarkable lack of insight.

"Nevertheless, since he was our hero he would always win out despite his inspired inefficiency. We also gave him a number which all operatives must have — agent 86. Get it?"

I didn't but Henry assured me any saloon habitue would. It's restaurant code for "don't give that customer any more booze, he's had enough."

In addition, Henry said, they dreamed up as co - star a muddled Mata Hari named "Agent 99." Another noseworthy character in their cast was agent K-13, a spy dog.

"Did you consider calling your dog K-9?"

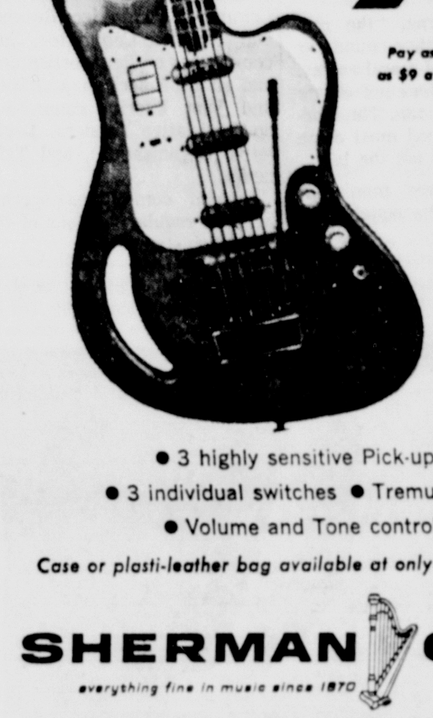

"Yes," said Henry, "but we fought off the cliche with a remarkable display of strength of will."

"We had no special comedian in mind for Smart," said Henry. "We wrote slightly slaphappy dialogue suitable for any standup comic. But we had our eyes on a definite Mata Hari—Barbara Feldon, a fine actress better known for her tigerish commercials.

"You often write television scripts not knowing whether they will sell or whether you will get the people you want for them. As it happened Barbara was not quite available because her commercial sponsors didn't want her appearing on a show for another poduct. It took a legal hassle to clear her.

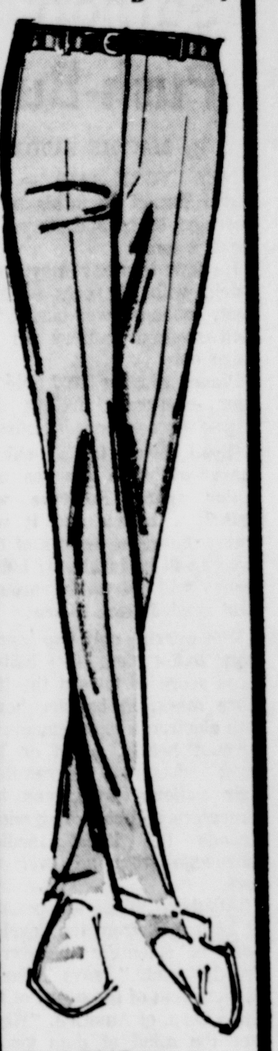

"Then we signed Don Adams (detective Glick of the Bill Dana show) as Smart and he was worried at first that Barbara might be too tall for him — she's a stunning 5 feet 8½ in her stockings. But after we got them together for a chat he changed his mind. Who wouldn't?

21ST CENTURY

Sarnoff Predicts Push-Button World

By MAGGIE SAVOY

NEW YORK (AP) — Gen. David Sarnoff sat in his gadget-operated office and stared into the 21st century.

He saw: Homes run by finger-touch, with 20 years of light, heat, cooling power buried in a suitcase-sized battery in the basement;

Planes winging 5,000 miles an hour overhead; freight shot across the continent by missile;

Food enough for all will be harvested from the sea and outer space. Someone will punch a button and it will rain; the great deserts of the world will be in bloom; hurricanes will be turned around and headed back to sea;

Man working only two hours a day; living past the biblical three score 10 toward the five-score mark, in happier health with electronic replacements for wornout hearts, lungs or kidneys; doctors programming their patients' symptoms into computers and collecting within seconds the latest medical knowledge from all over the world.

"All these things are possible by 2,000 A.D. from the development of scientific discoveries already made," says Sarnoff, 74, chairman of the board of the Radio Corp. of America. "Whatever the mind of man visualizes, the genius of modern science can turn into fact.

"What a world this will be, if mankind's hearts can pace their minds!"

Many of today's miracles — radio, television, electronics, radar, space shots, satellite television, machines that store giant masses of information and solve intricate equations with demonic speed — were translated into being by this dynamic dreamer-doer, born the first son of a poor Russian trader about the same year man discovered the secret of the electron which, harnessed by the mind of man, is the keystone of many of today's scientific marvels.

Sarnoff, known as the "father of radio," has been called the "positive charge of kinetic energy" that put the electron to work.

Neither an inventor nor a scientist, Sarnoff is a catalyst, a man who has made many prophecies, then forged and managed the business and research which made them come true.

In 1915, when the wireless was still a "contraption," he foresaw music boxes in every home. In 1921, shortly after RCA was formed and he became its commercial manager, he talked his bosses into risking $2,000 to develop a "music box."

Today 228 million radios are in use in homes, automobiles, coat pockets, under the sea and in space.

In 1923 he said, "Television will come to pass in due time." Sixteen years and $20 million later, he — then president of RCA — unveiled the first television at the World's Fair in New York.

Today 67 million television sets are in use.

Today he watches yet another prophecy come true. Color television has caught on, after $130 million in research and a 10-year wait before color's account could be written in uncolored ink.

By the end of the year, five million color sets will be in use. Demand is outracing industry's ability to produce color picture tubes.

This obviously pleases the courtly, stocky Sarnoff.

But Sarnoff also worries about the future.

"To put it bluntly," he warns, "either all men learn to live and work together, or or all men perish together. Science awaits man's commands — commands that can lead to utter destruction or turn all the world toward greater civilization."

Yet his tough faith in mankind gives him an up-beat look toward tomorrow.

"Every discovery reveals more clearly the divine design in nature, remarkable harmony in all things, from the infinitesimal to the infinite. Physical processes and laws are logical, all-embracing, wholly dependable. They imply a Supreme Architect."

Sarnoff is concerned with the men, women and children who will inherit the frightful toys of tomorrow.

"The great challenge to man — if he is to survive — is to learn to harness those new powers for useful, beneficient purposes, or we shall find ourselves victims of our own progress, trapped by our own genius."

He views communication satellites as forces for peace. "No barriers of time, distance or ideology can long withstand the mounting flow of information. The more man knows of man, the greater will be the desire to live and progress in mutual understanding."

Still, he warns, "the machine has neither mind or soul nor sense of moral values. Science alone does not create brotherhood of man. The mortar of brotherhood must come from the heart, not the lab.

"More than ever, man's soul is involved in the equations of our lives."

If he had his life to live over, he'd like to be born today. "The best is yet to be."
